GRITTY CITY JOBS

“This is Gritty City Jobs! Wherever there’s a tough job to do, Mick Howser will try it on!”

04

etc.

02

SYNTH-ROCK MUSIC plays over quick shots of MICK HOWSER doing grungy jobs all over LEGO City: He is battling an alligator with a plunger as the sink and toilet in the background spit water studs.

A man panics in the corner.

05

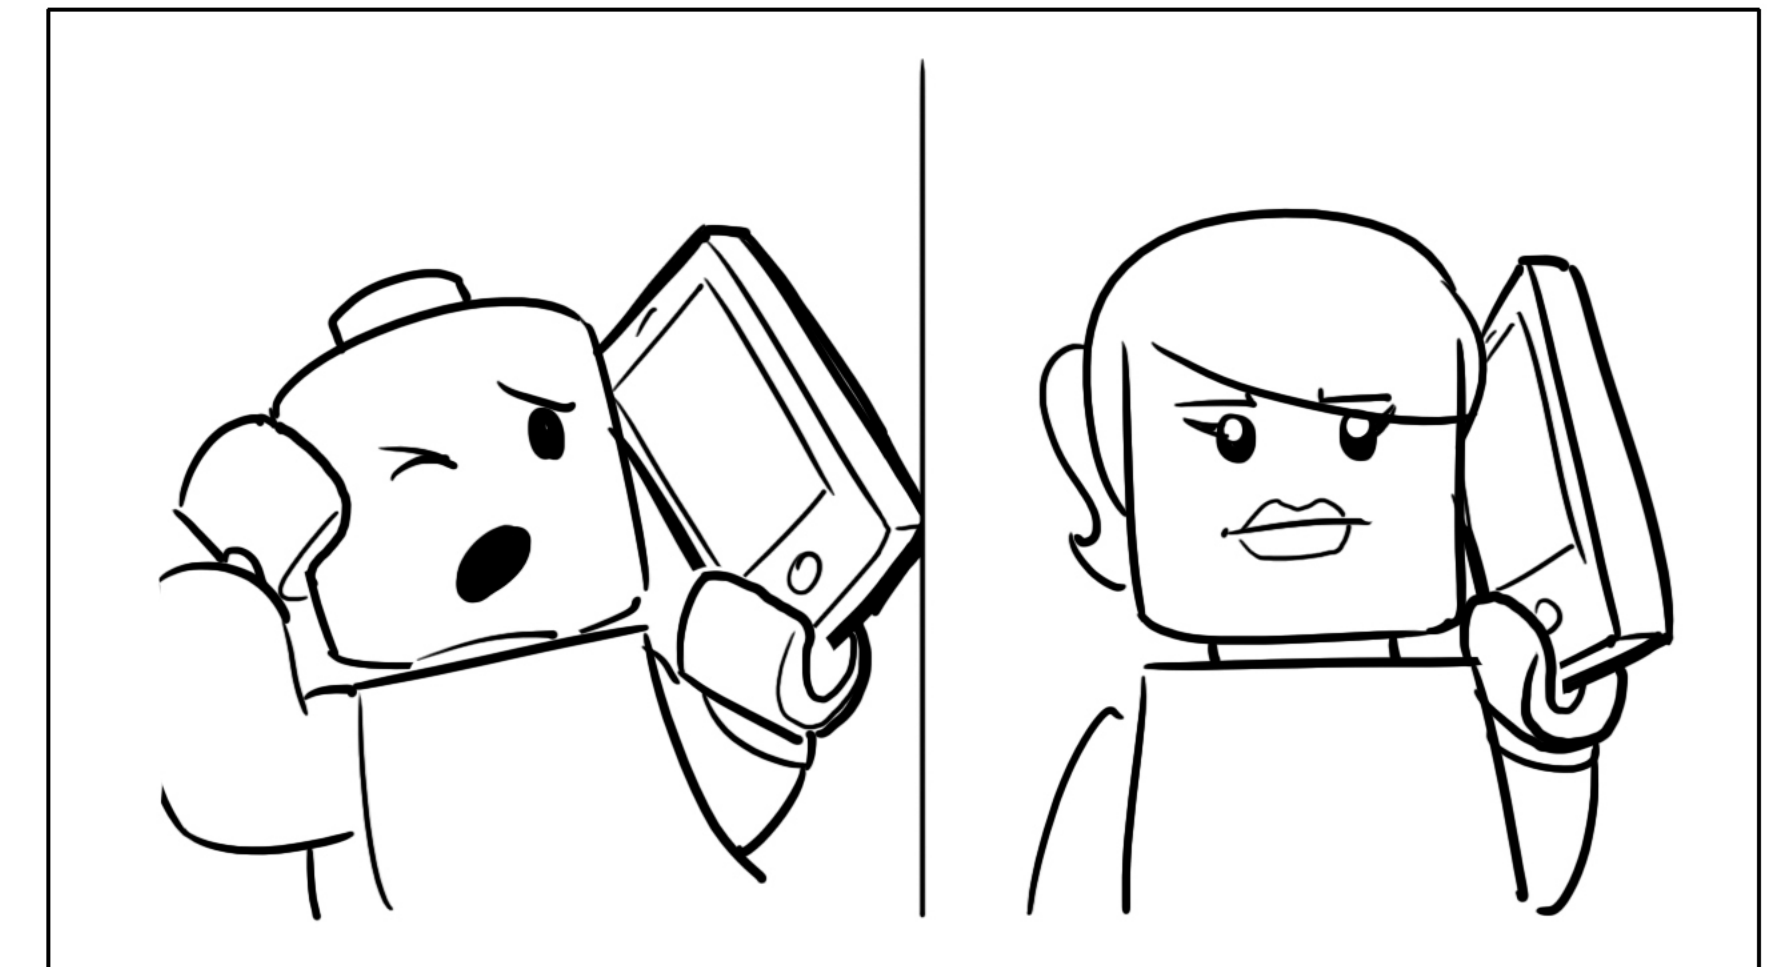

We do a “BATMAN-STYLE WIPE” with the GRITTY JOBS logo to:

03

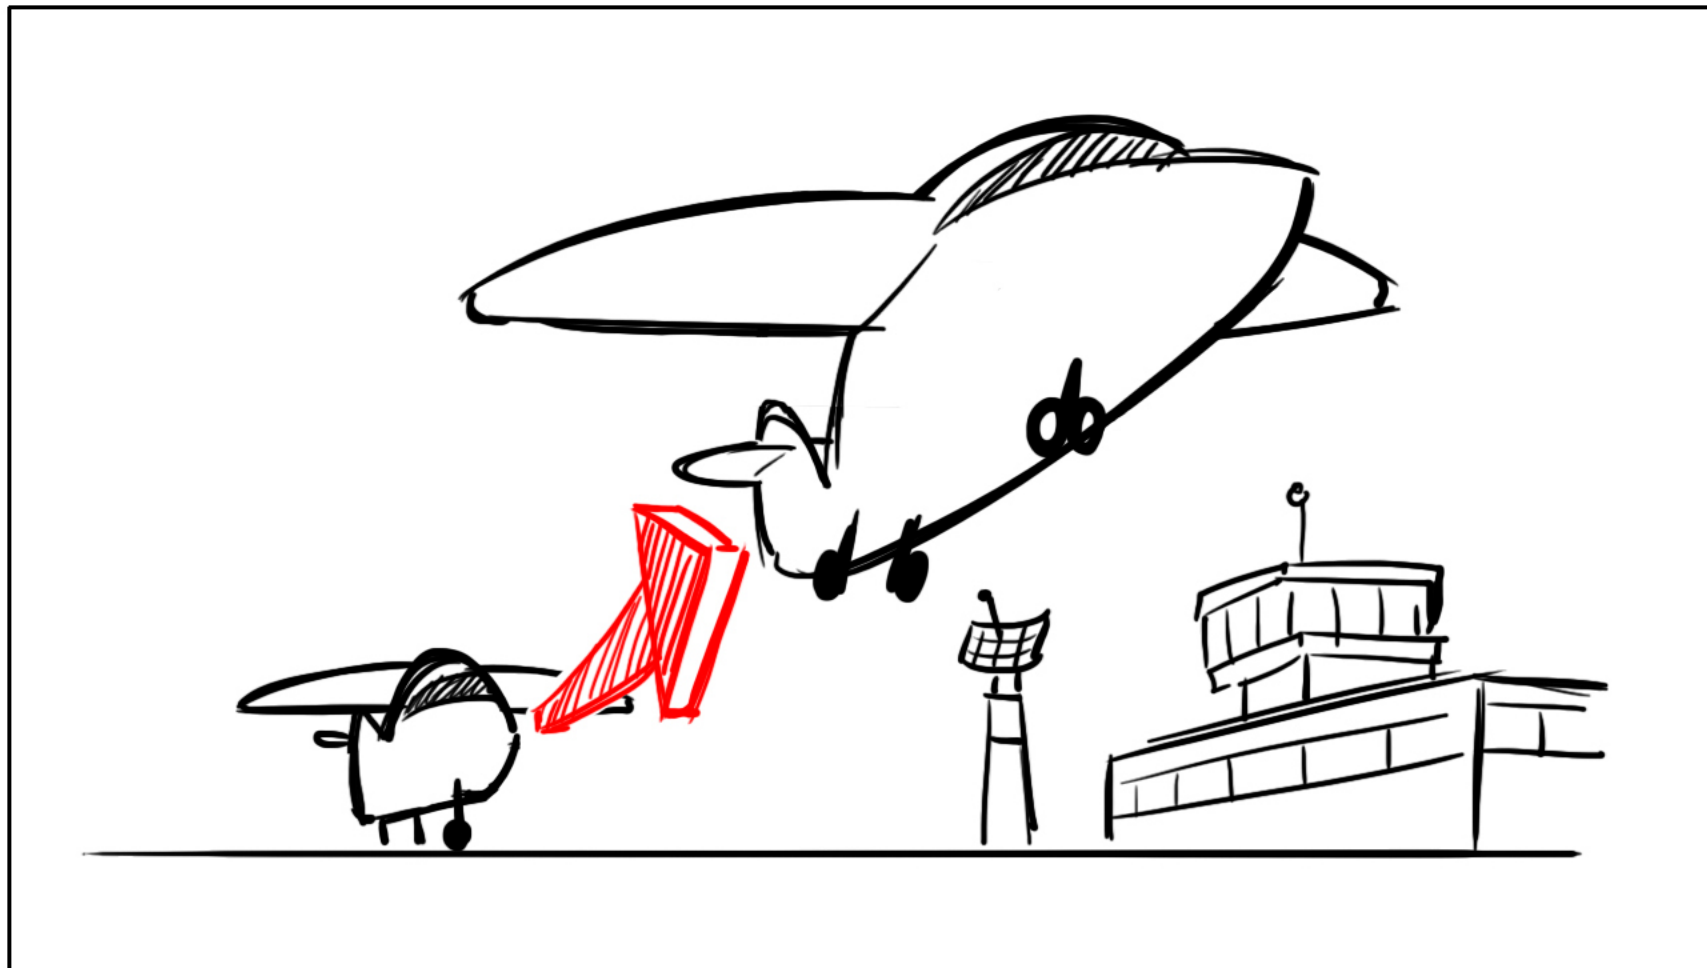

he helms the LEGO CITY FERRY (good-naturedly stifling a little seasickness as he does);

06

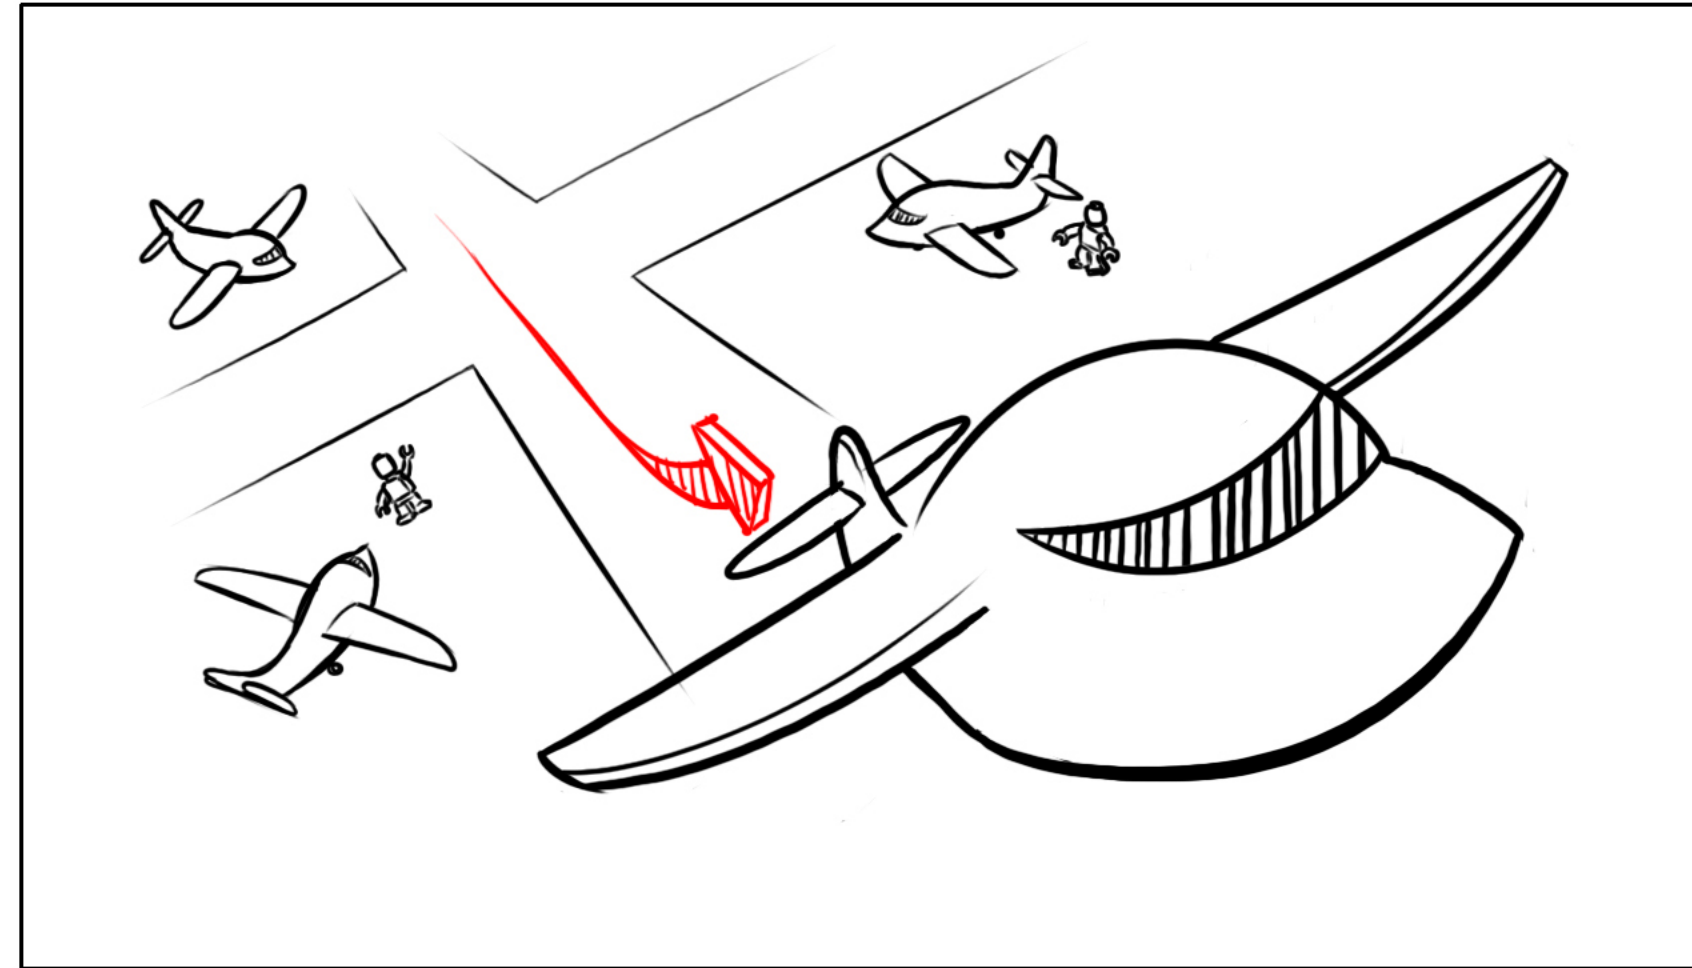

An injured and stranded man dials 911, and the female ambulance pilot receives the call.

01

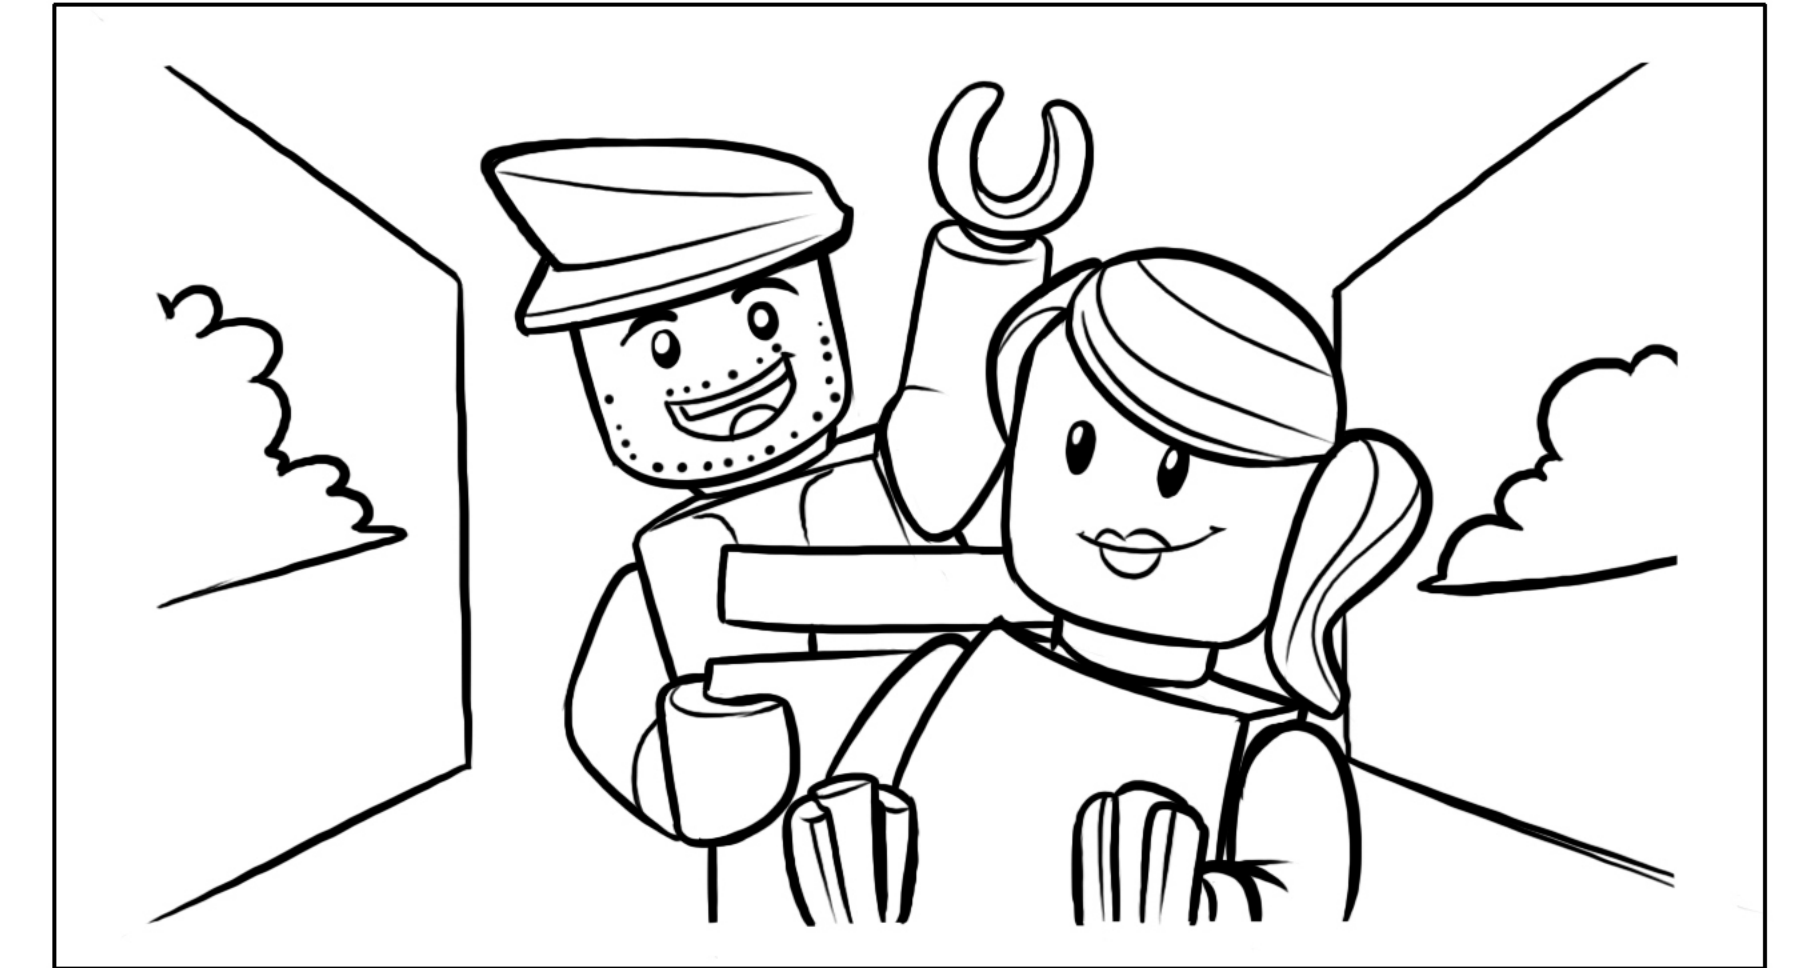

The Ambulance Plane is taking off from the runway.

02

As it flies away, we see many other LEGO CITY aircraft sitting on the tarmac and coming in for a landing.

03

MICK is in the rear compartment and a RESCUE

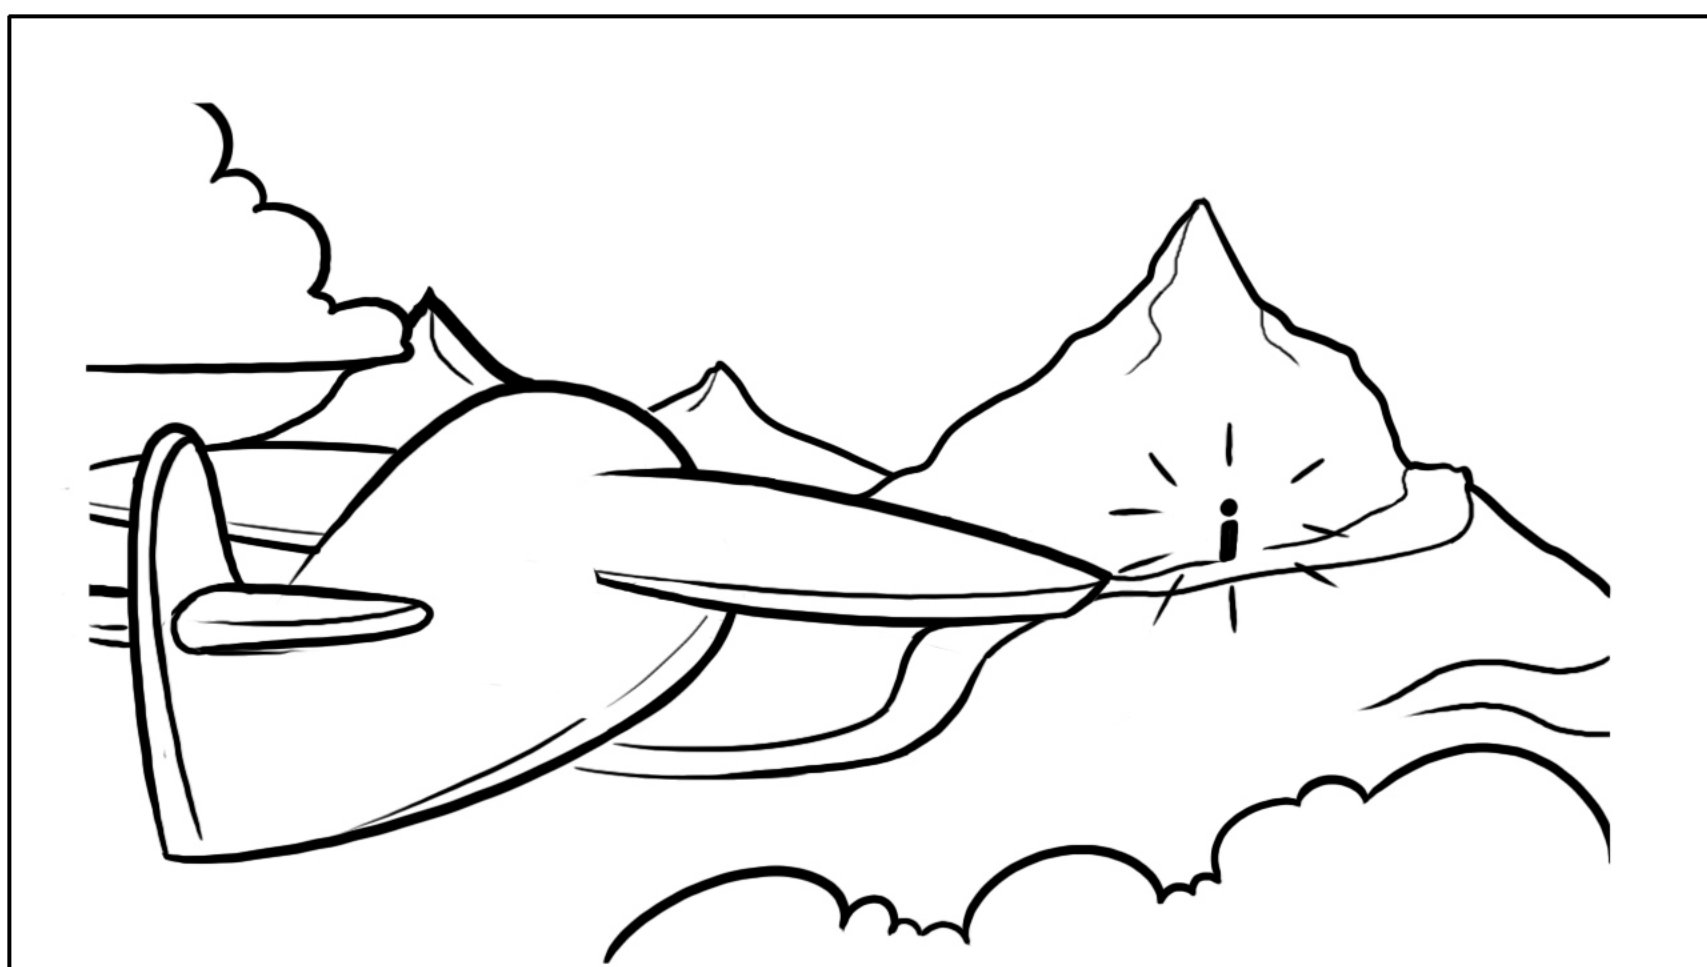

PILOT is at the wheel.

“Today, Mick flies to the rescue in the LEGO City

Ambulance Plane -- becoming an E.M.T. A.S.A.P!

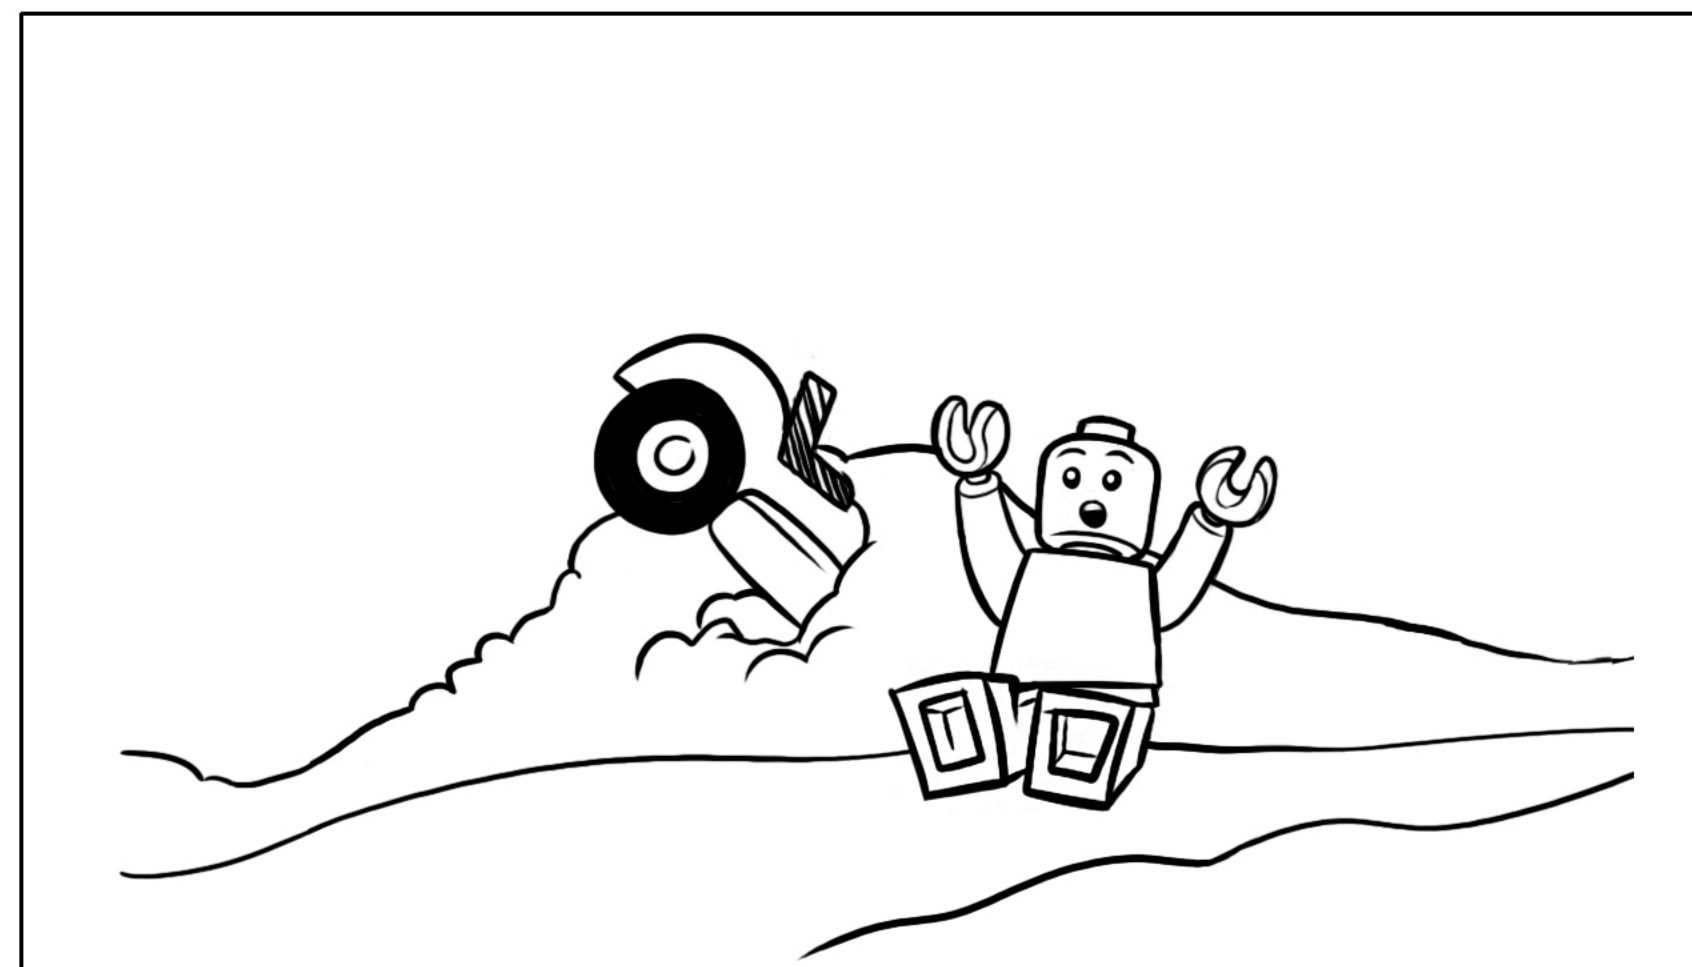

That’s “Emergency Medical Technician” for short!”

04

The Pilot comes out of the clouds and approaches a SNOWY MOUNTAIN, where we can barely make out a speck on a road near the summit.

05

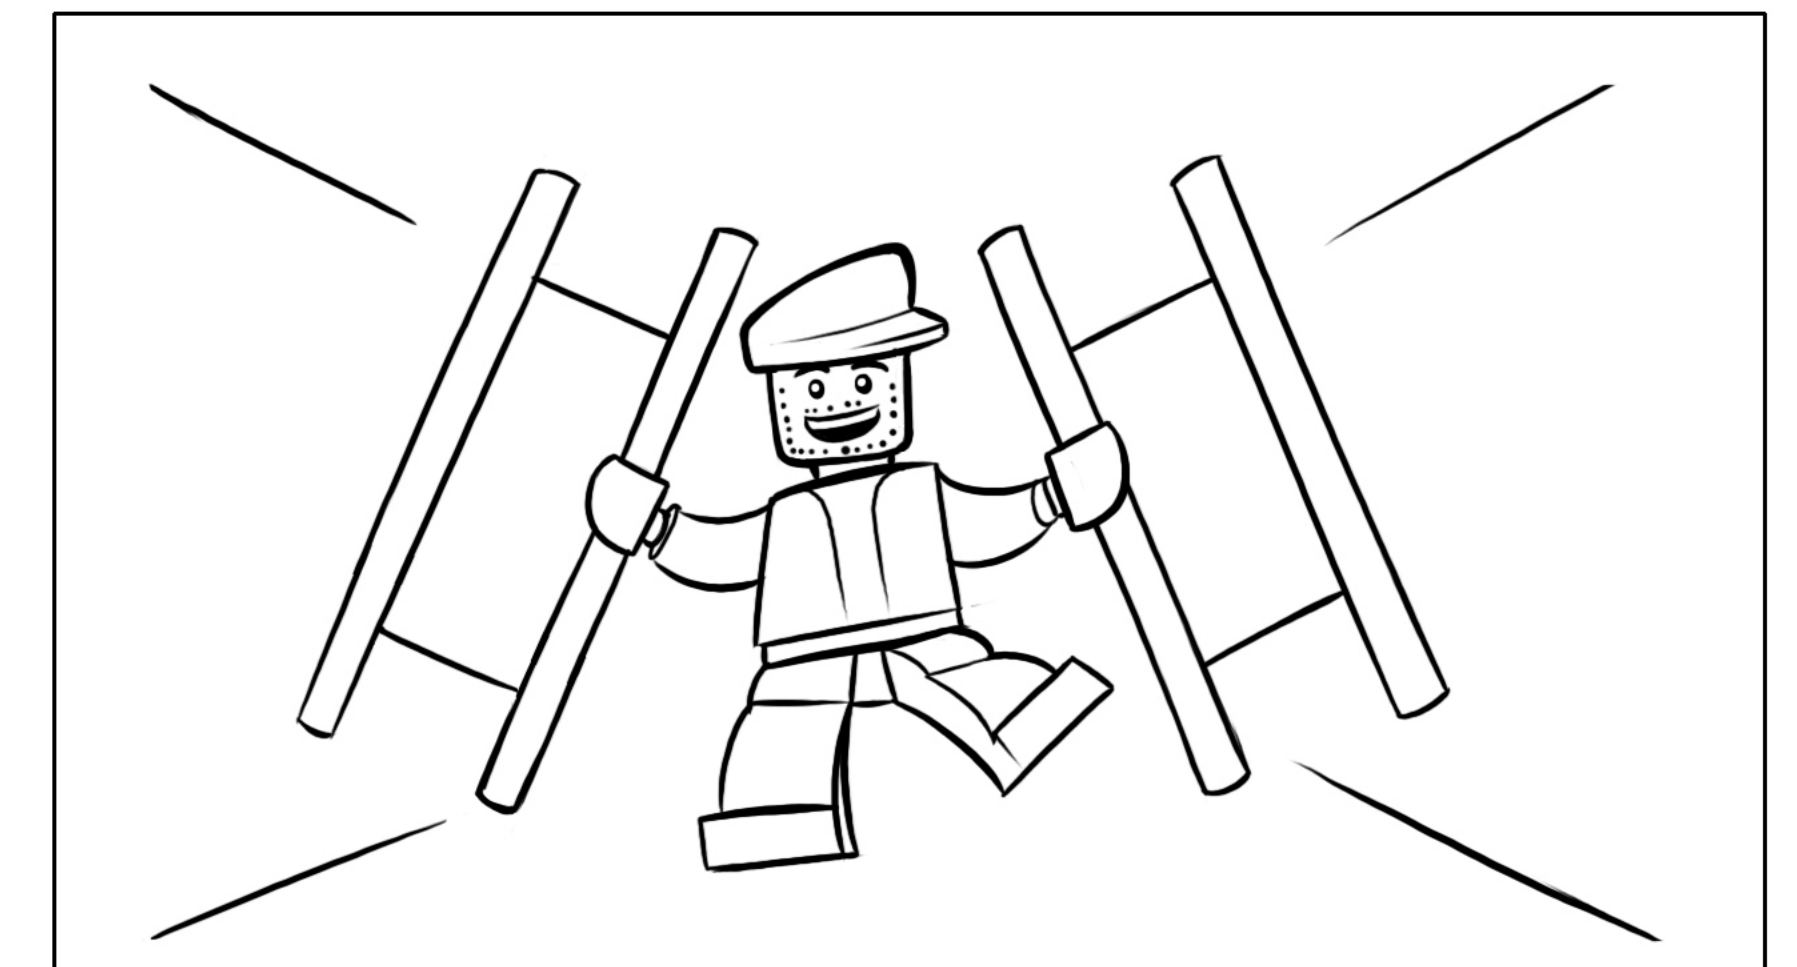

A crashed MOTORCYCLE lies on the snow-covered road. An injured CYCLIST sits on the ground and waves to the approaching Ambulance Plane.

“They’re following a report of an injured motorcyclist on Mayhem Mountain.”

06

Mick holds on to two white STRETCHERS -- getting ready to rush out of the plane as soon as it lands.

“Mick feels the rush of adrenaline as he prepares to aid the injured cyclist.”

01

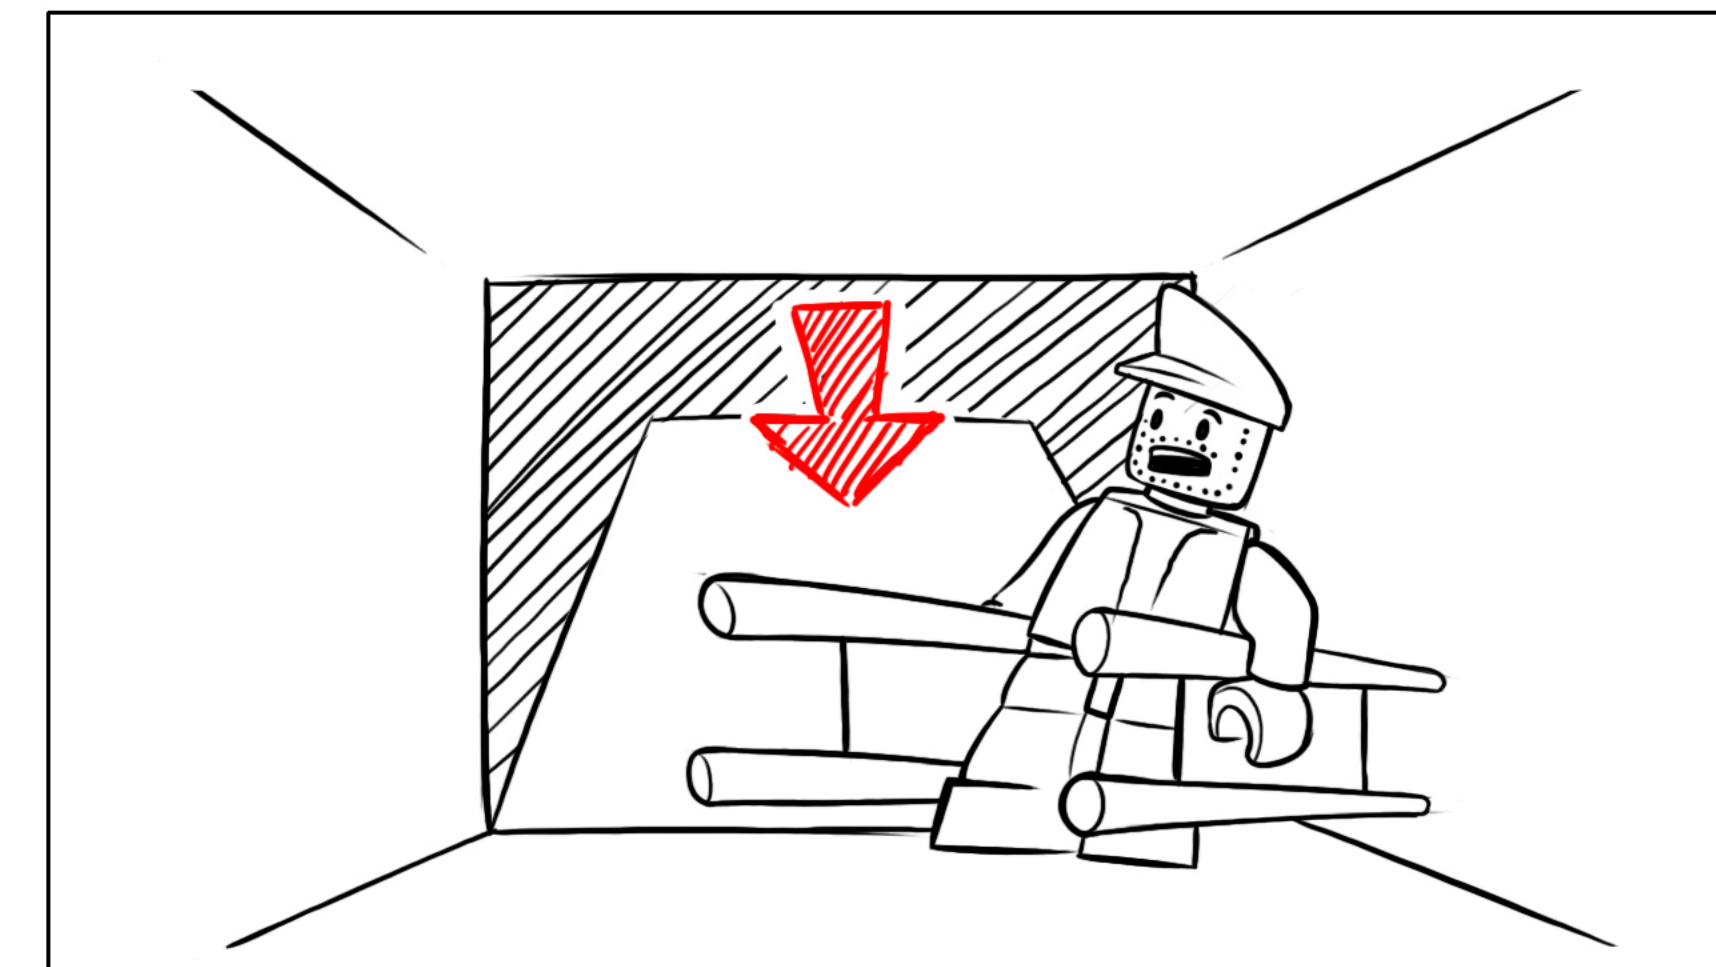

THE PILOT -- steers the plane toward the road below

02 and pushes a button.

03

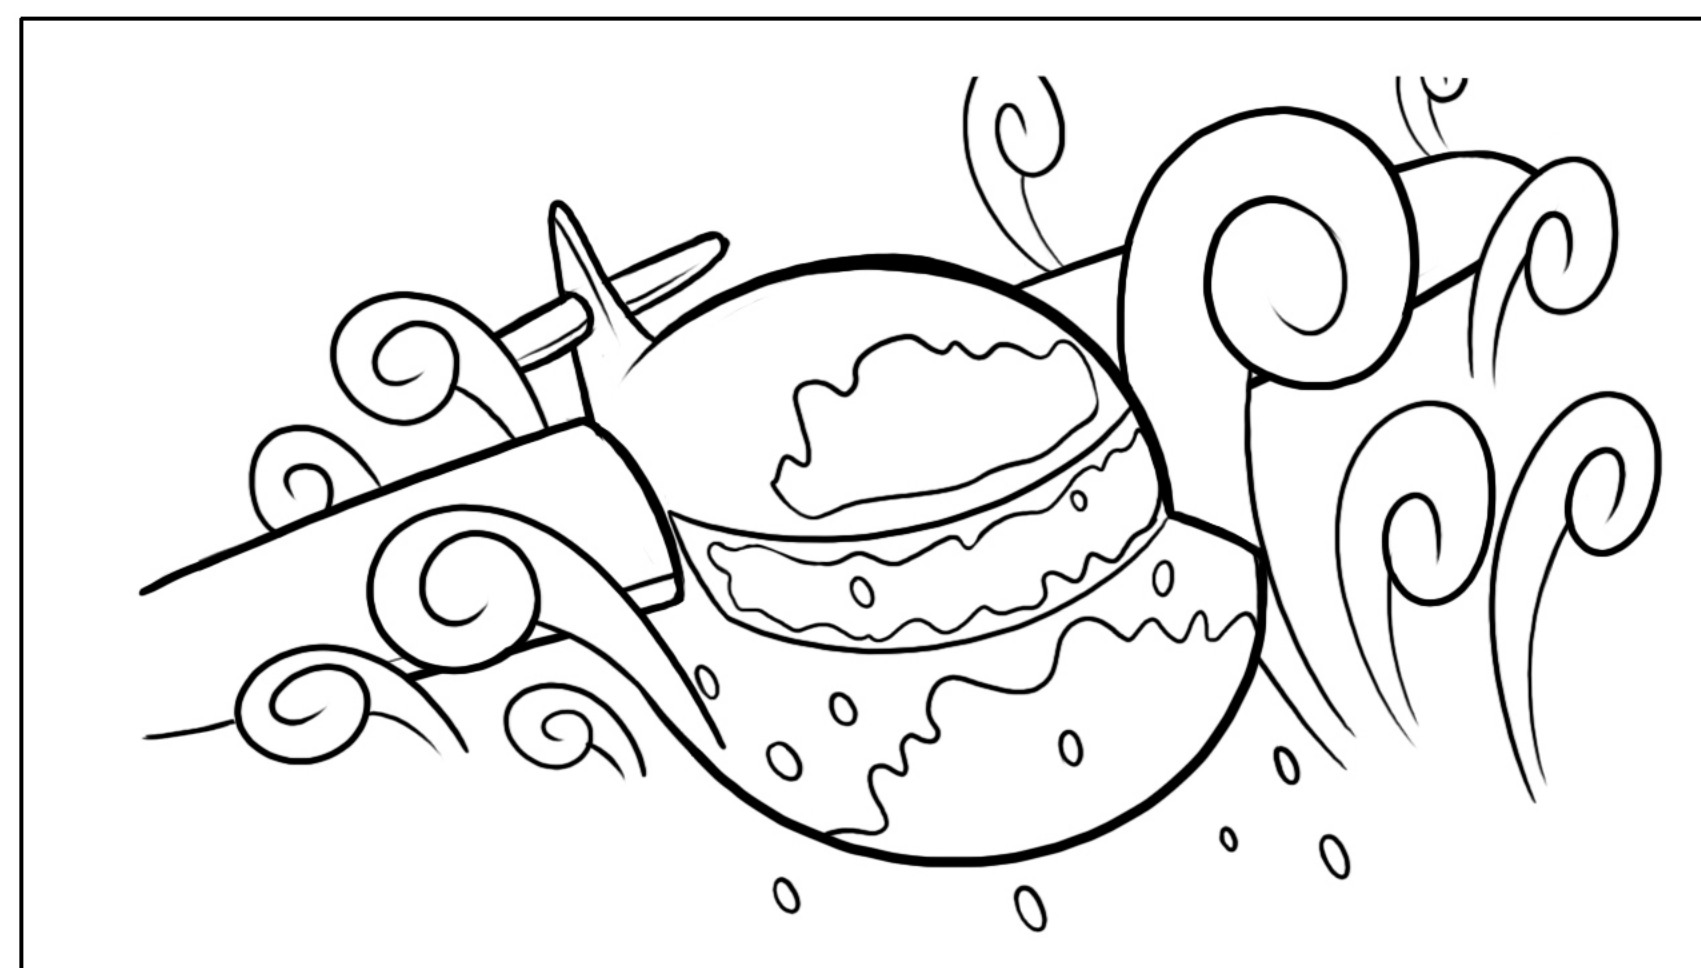

The rear door opens behind Mick.

04

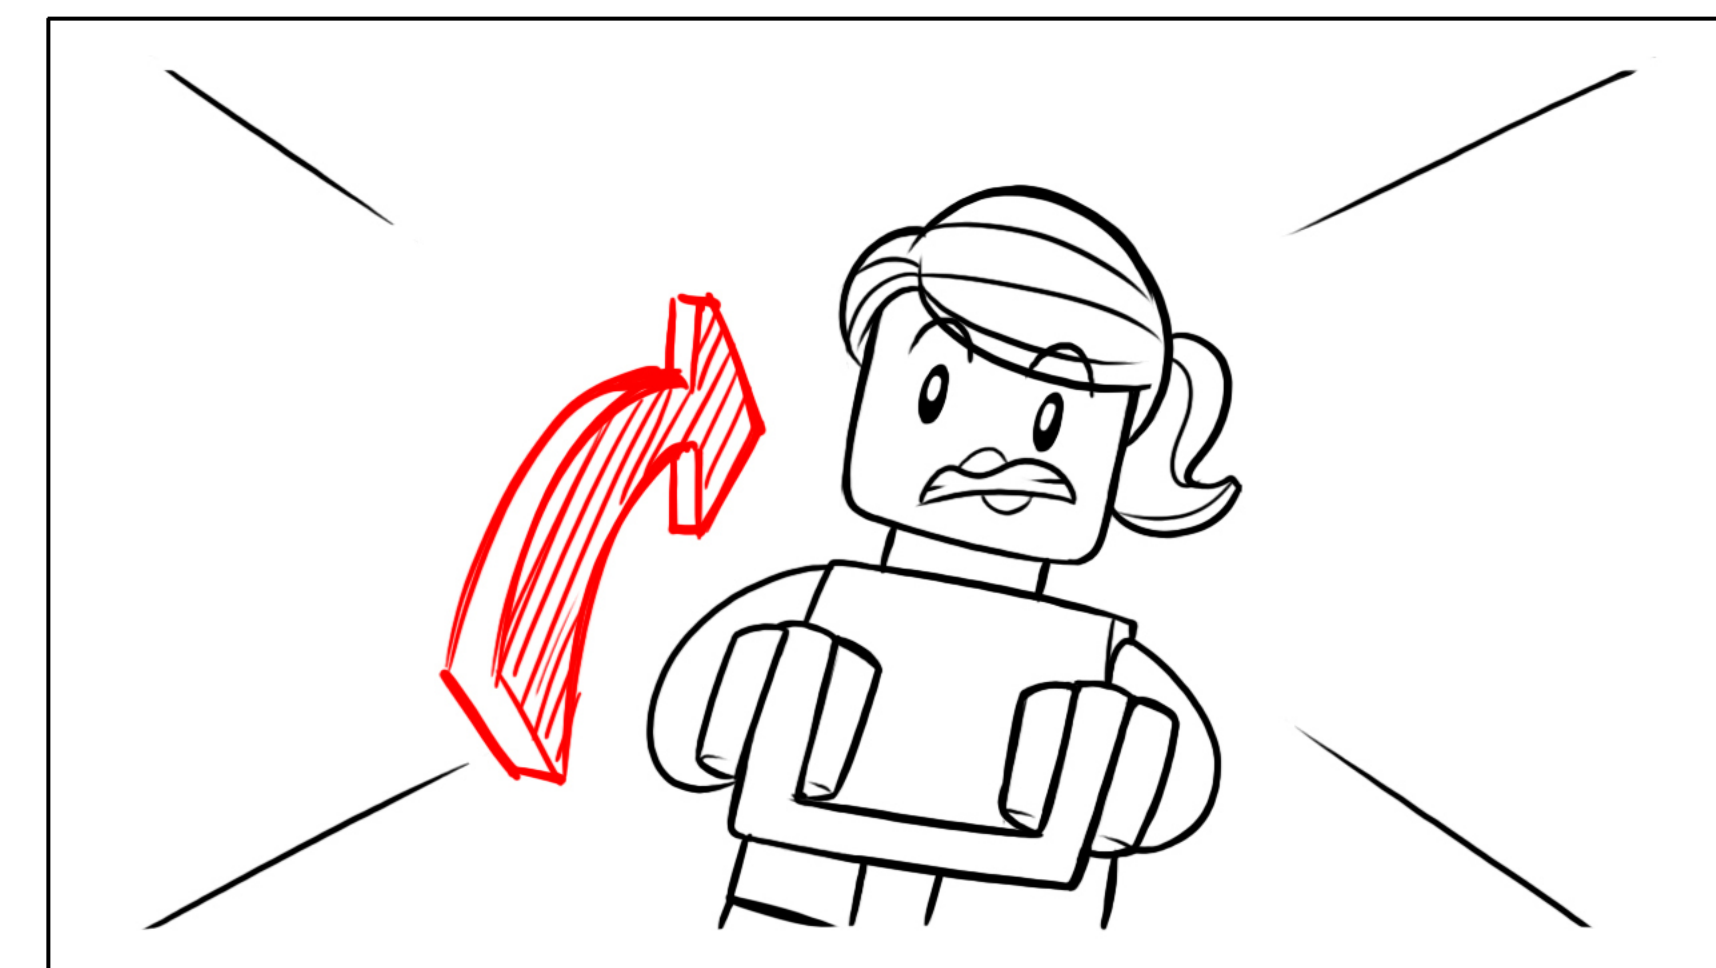

A gust of wind blows snow at the descending plane!

05

THE PILOT -- is blinded by snow covering the windshield.

06

She jerks the joystick

01 and the plane goes into a crazy loop...

02

tossing Mick out of the open rear door.

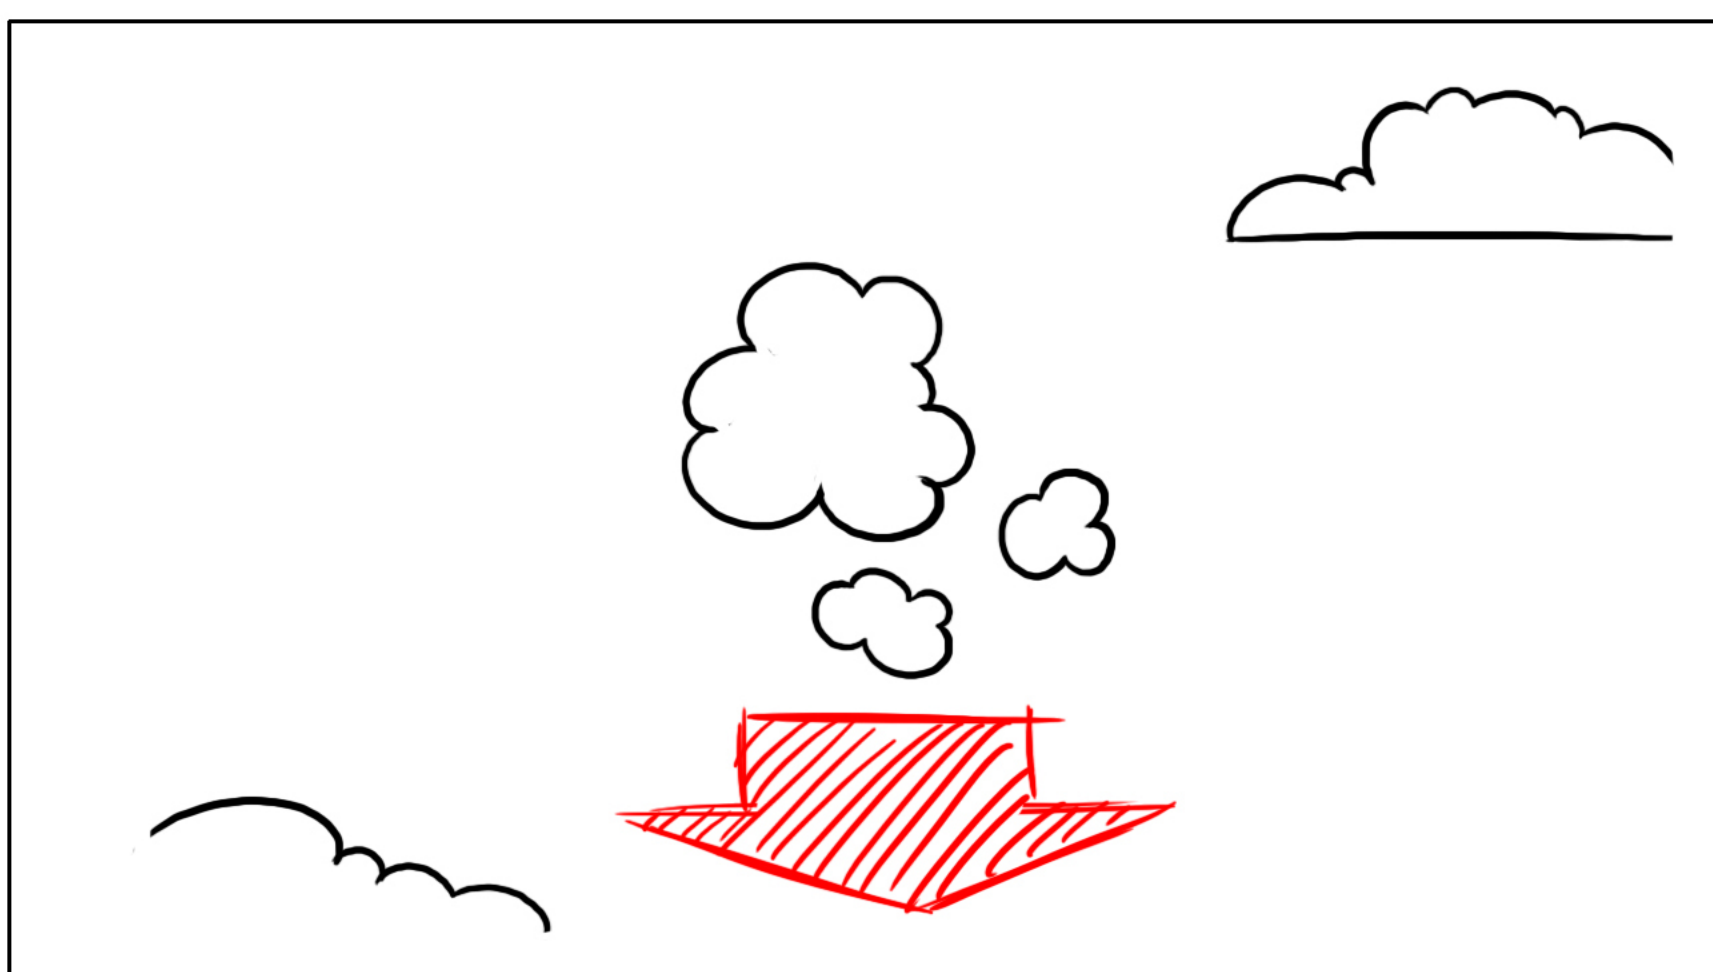

03

“But then Mick feels the rush of something not good

04

-- air!”

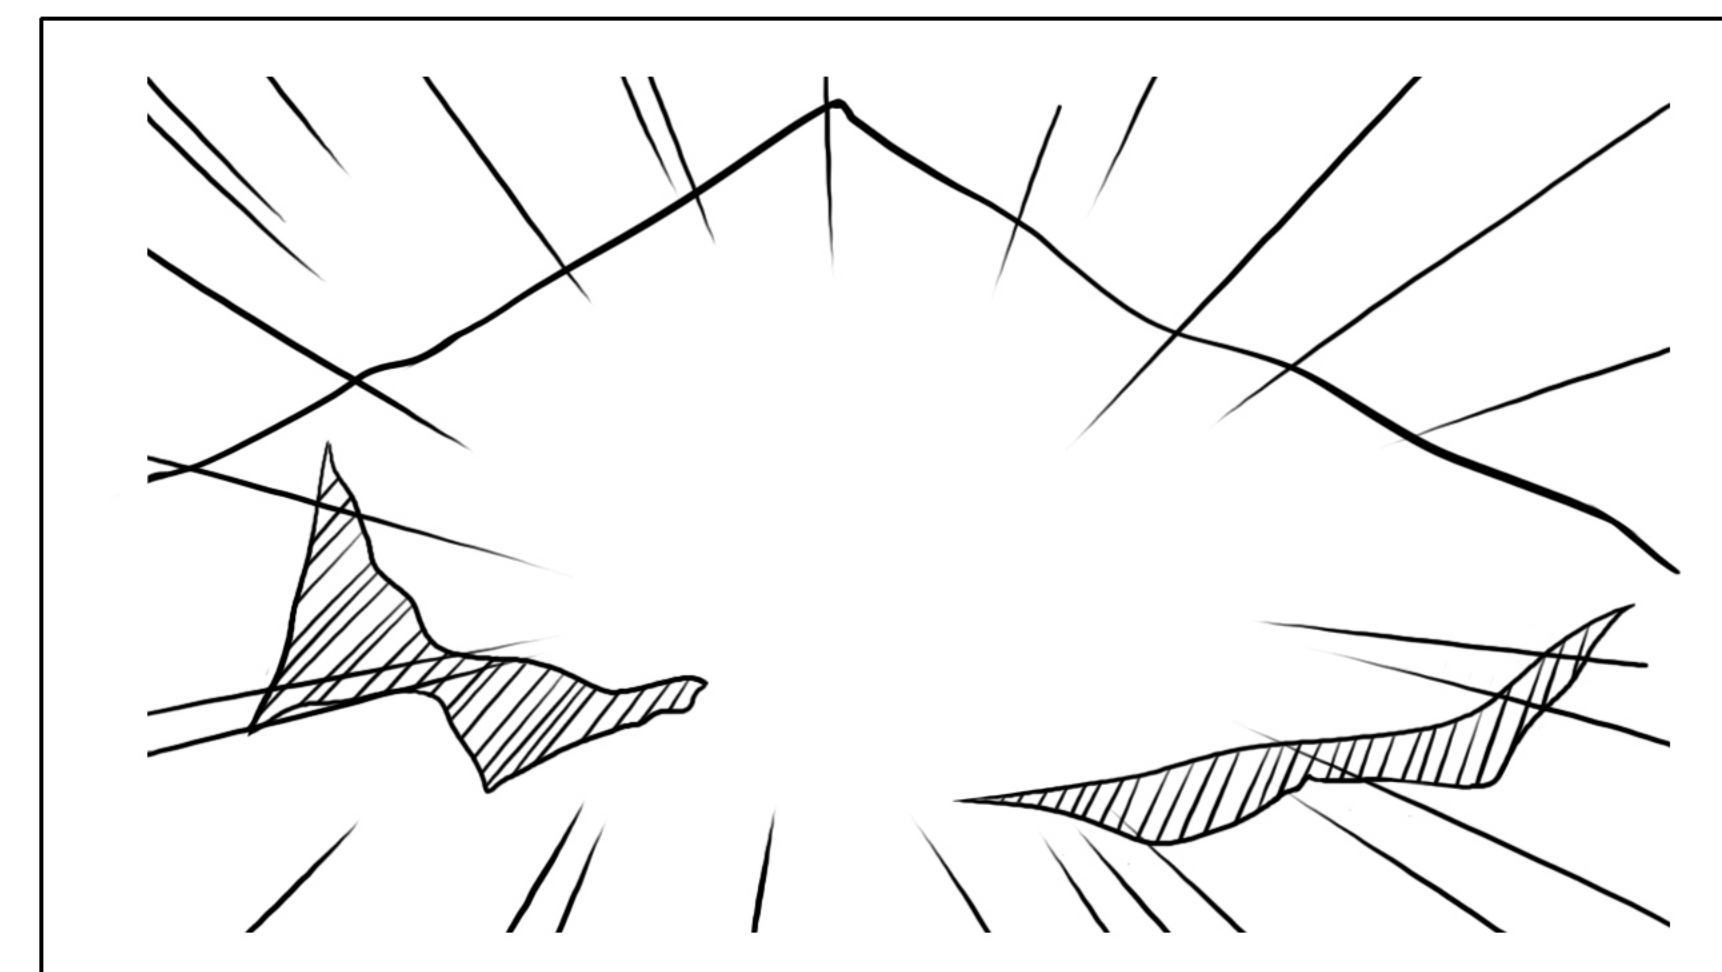

05

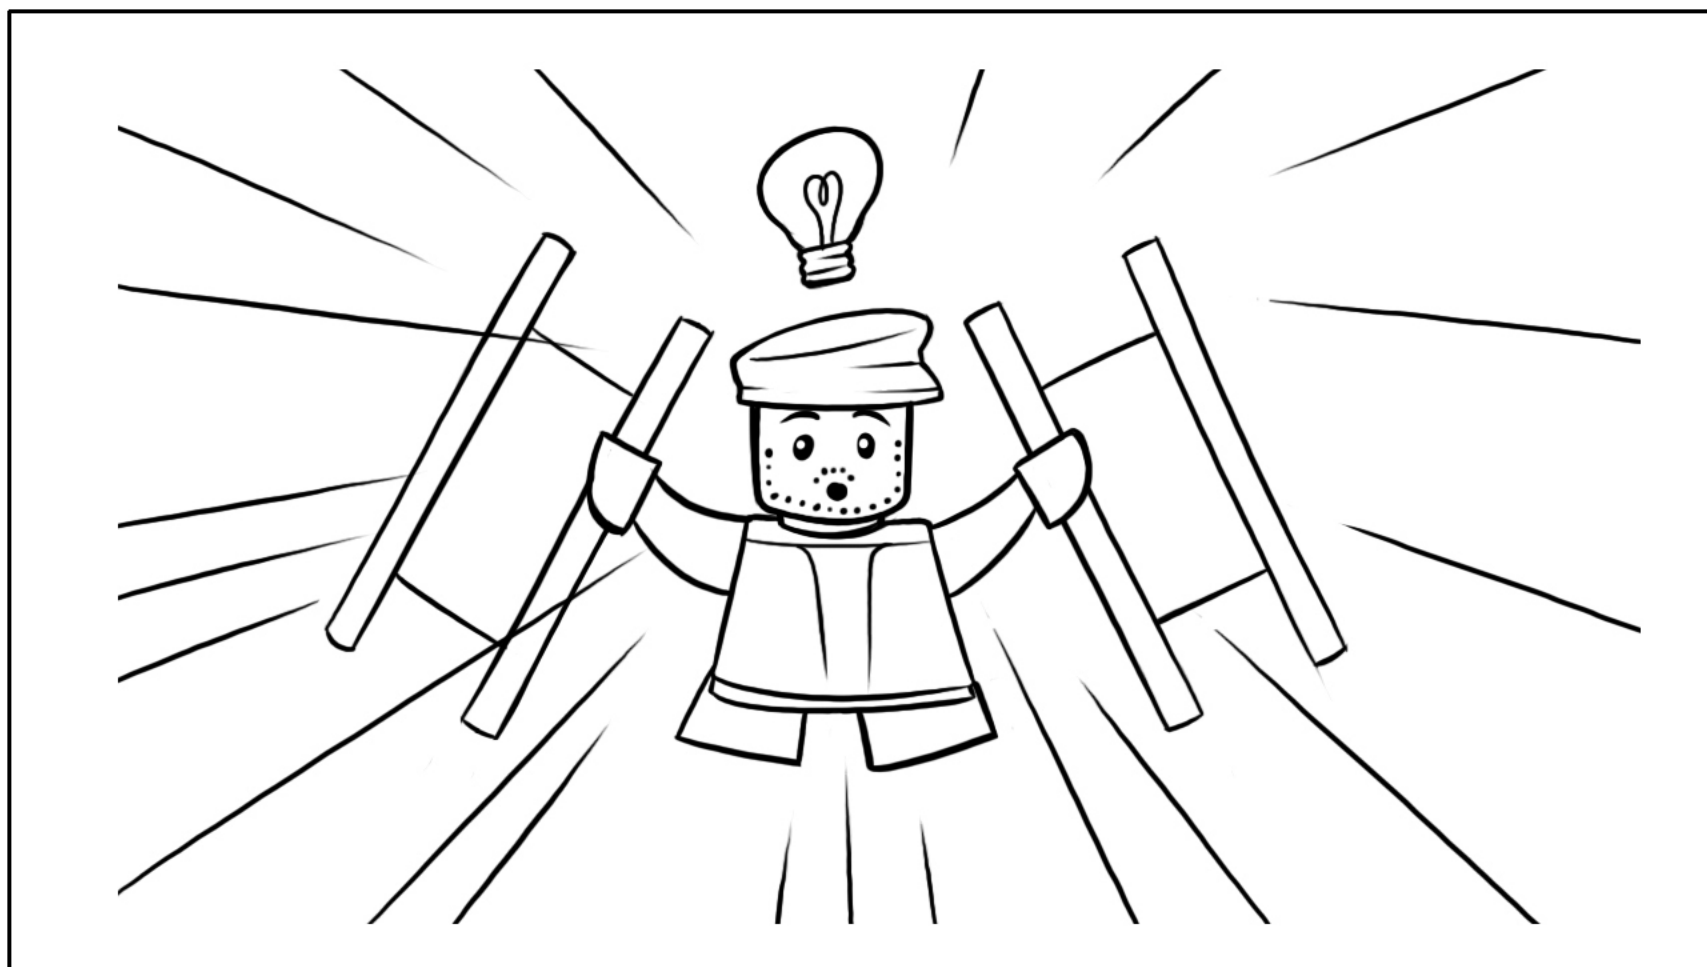

Mick free-falls toward the snowy mountain with only the two white stretchers in his hands.

(FRIGHTENED FALLING SCREAM)

06

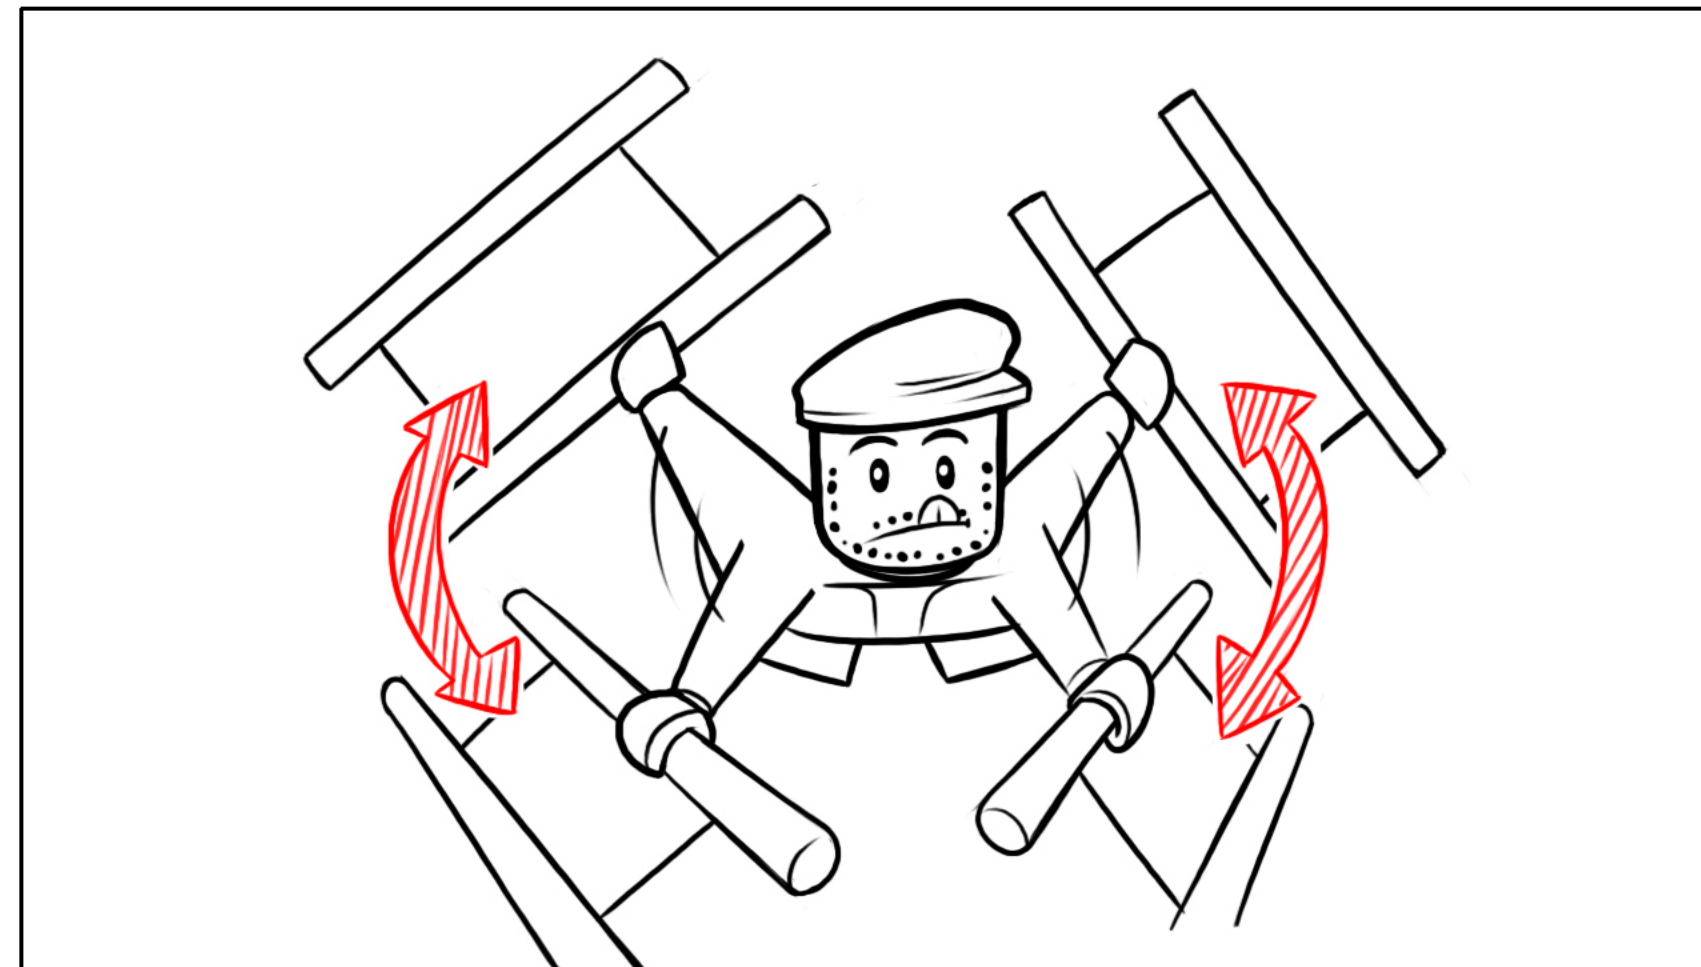

01

But then Mick gets an idea.

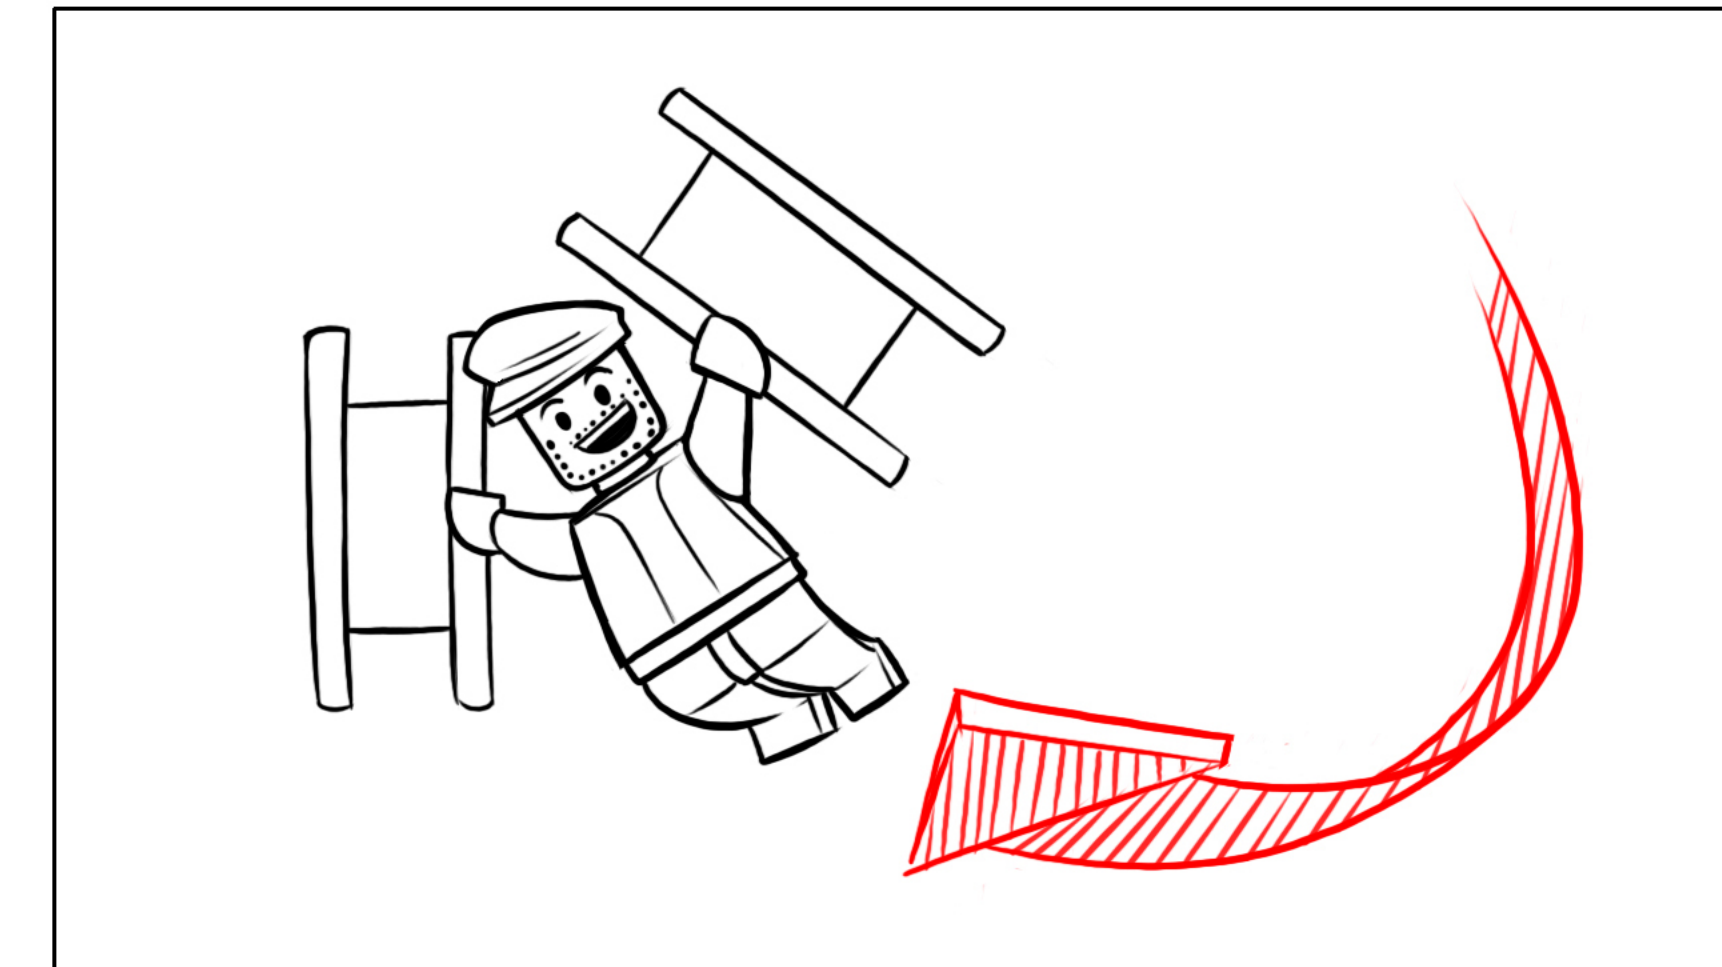

(SCREAM THAT TURNS INTO “GETTING AN IDEA NOISE”)

02

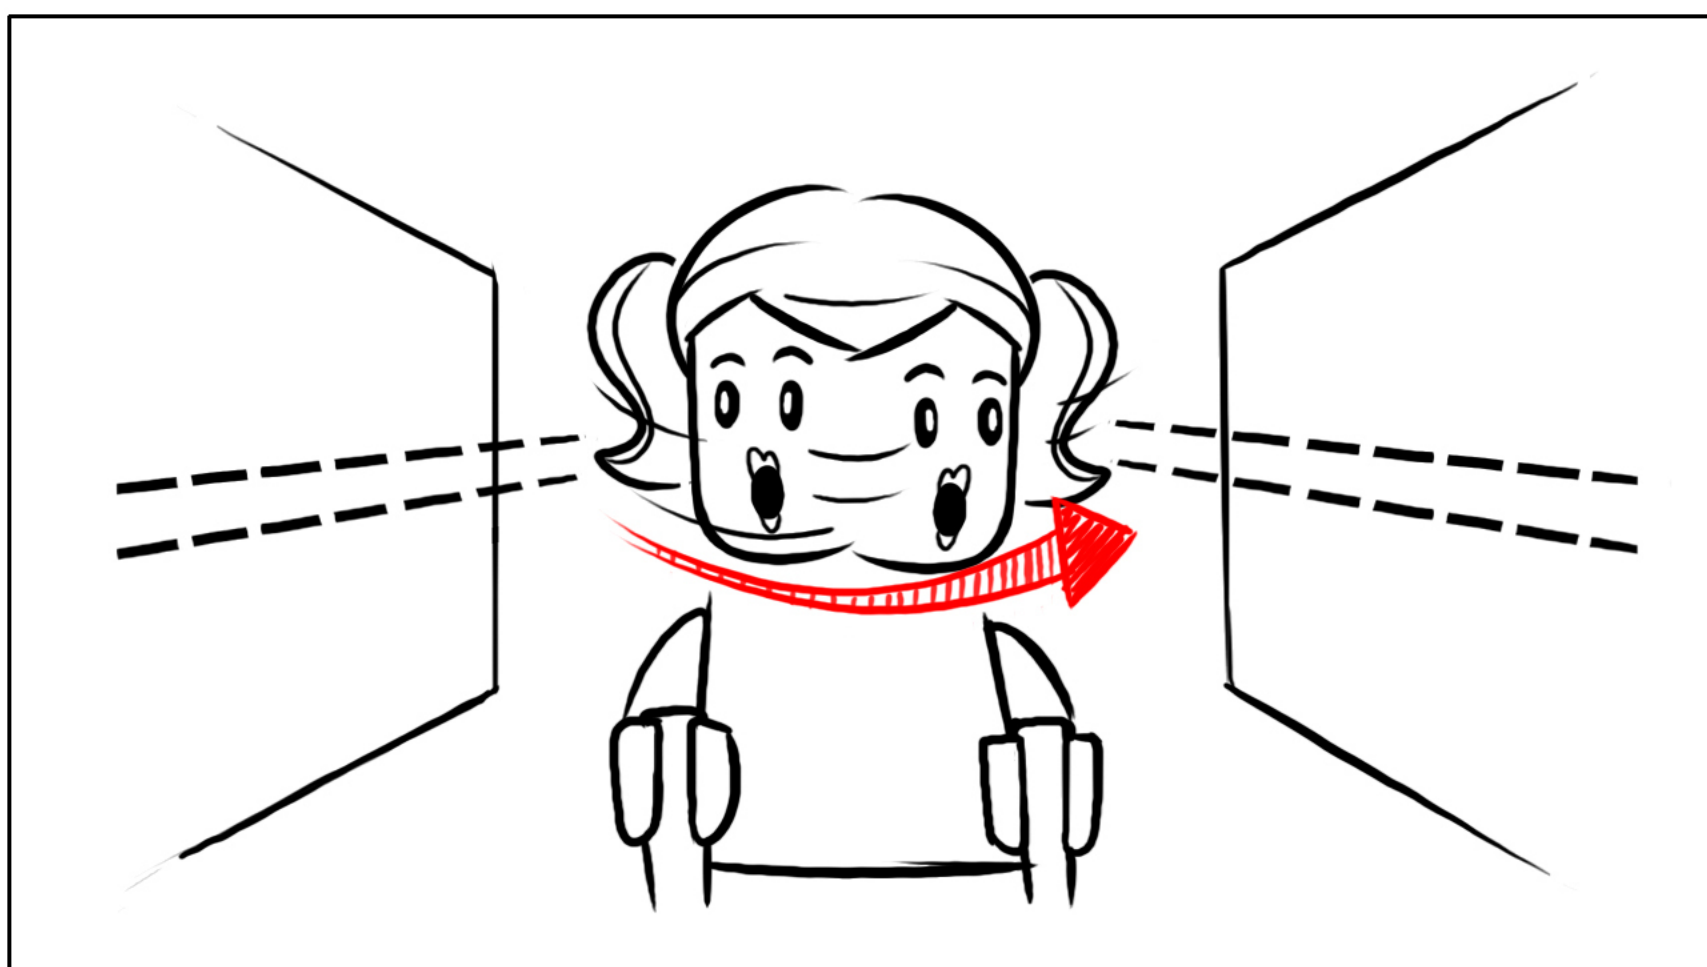

Mick starts flapping the two stretchers as if they were eagle wings.

03

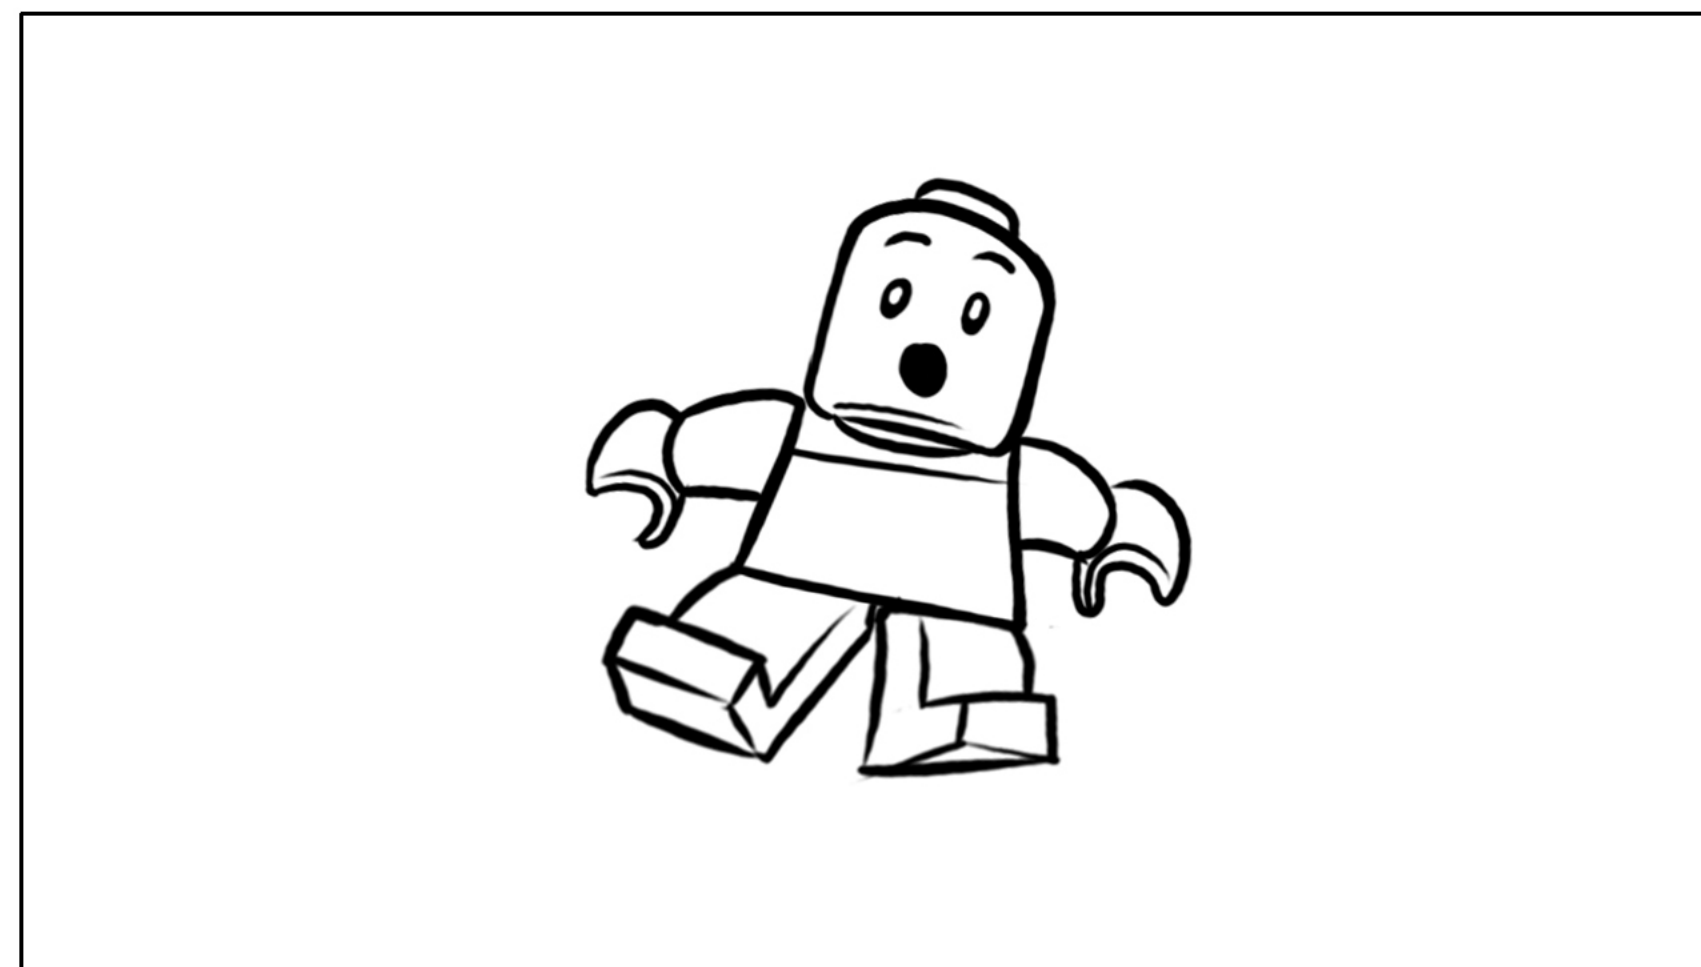

He starts to fly like a majestic bird.

04

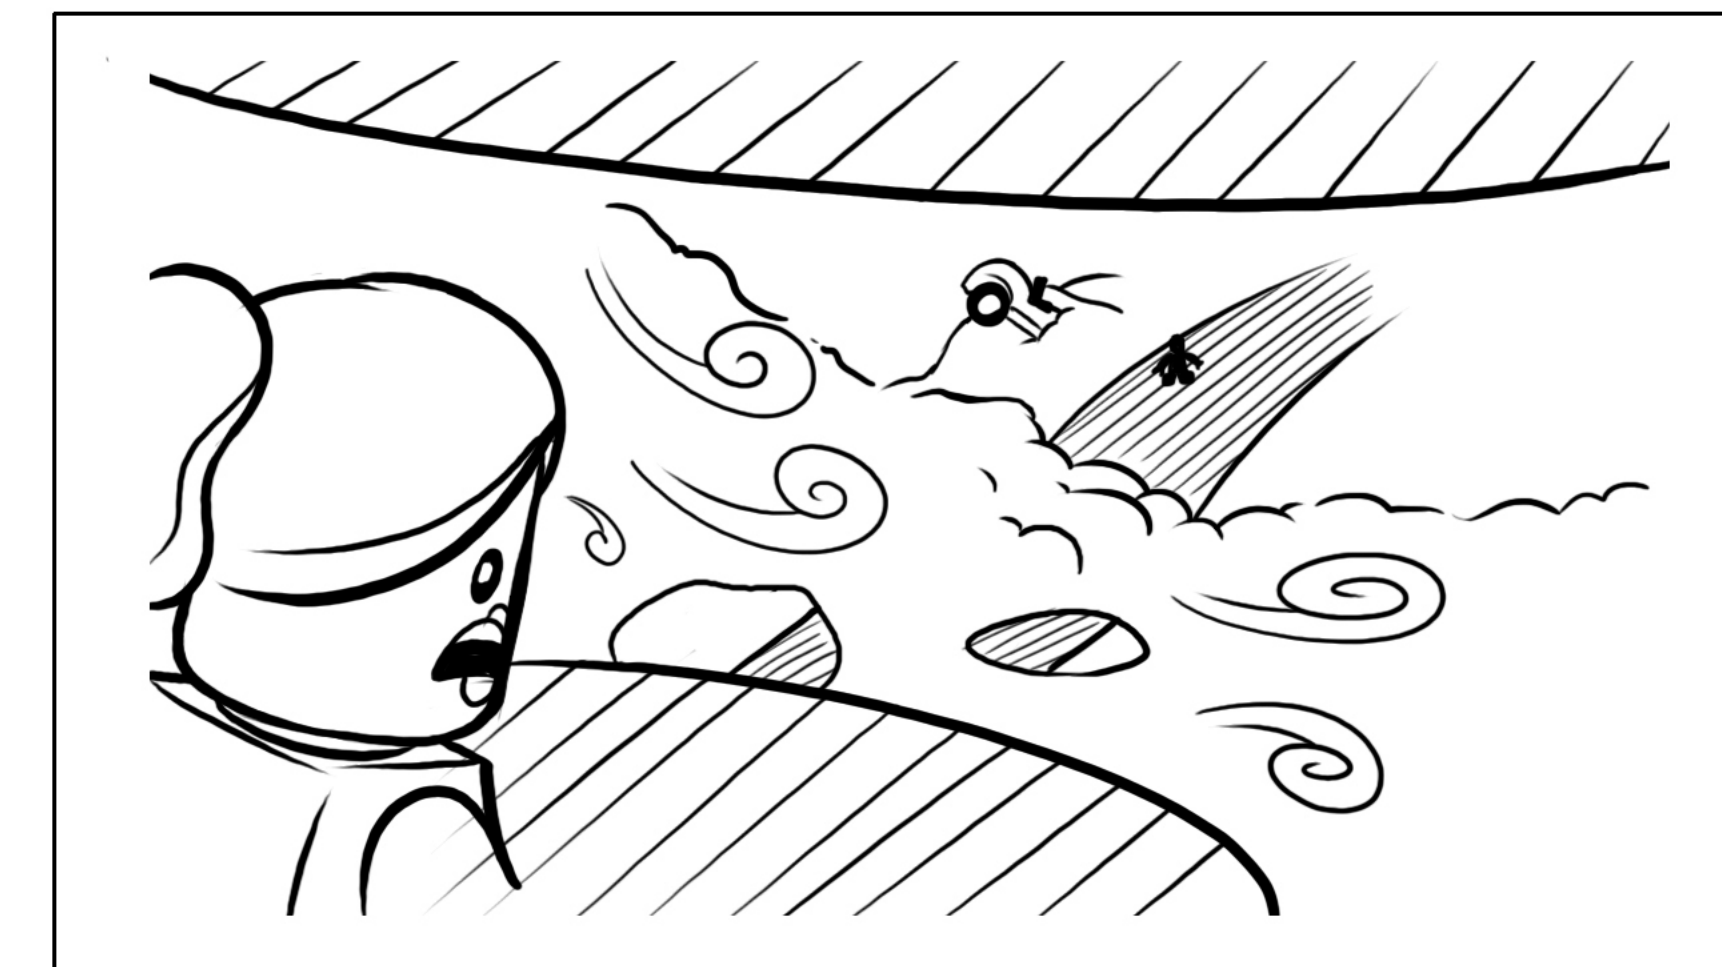

THE PILOT -- sees Mick and gets an amazed look on his face.

05

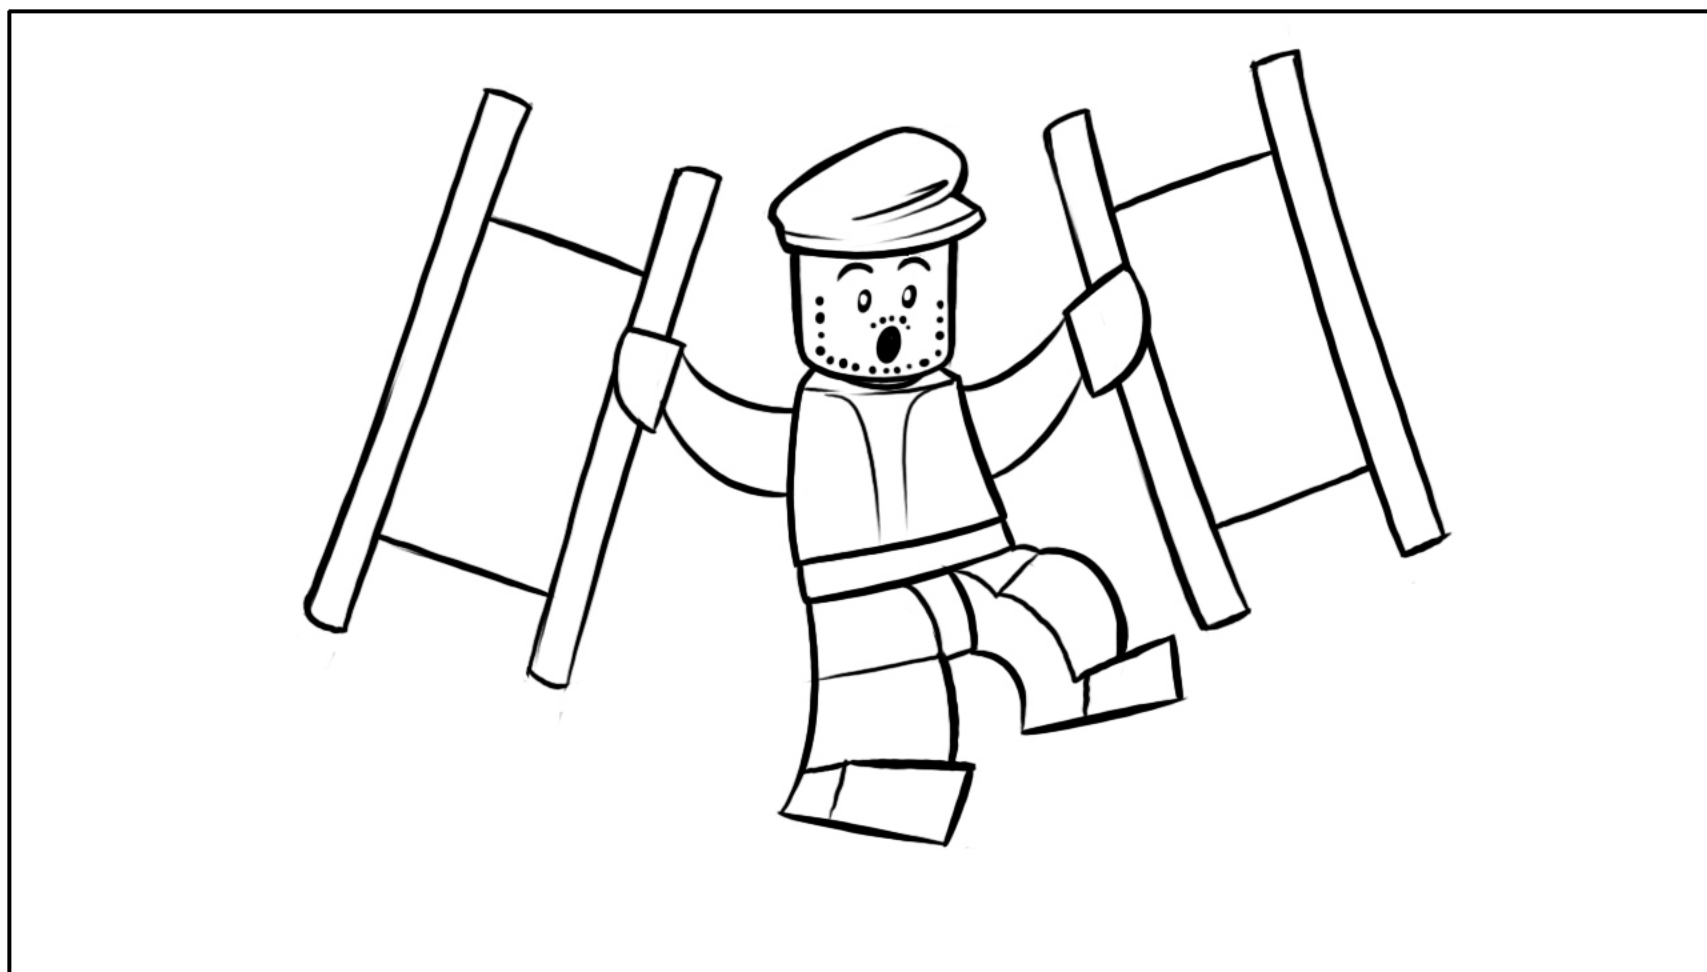

THE CYCLIST -- sees Mick and gets an amazed look on his face.

06

The Pilot rights the plane and steers it toward the road below. But the road is now covered with drifting snow.

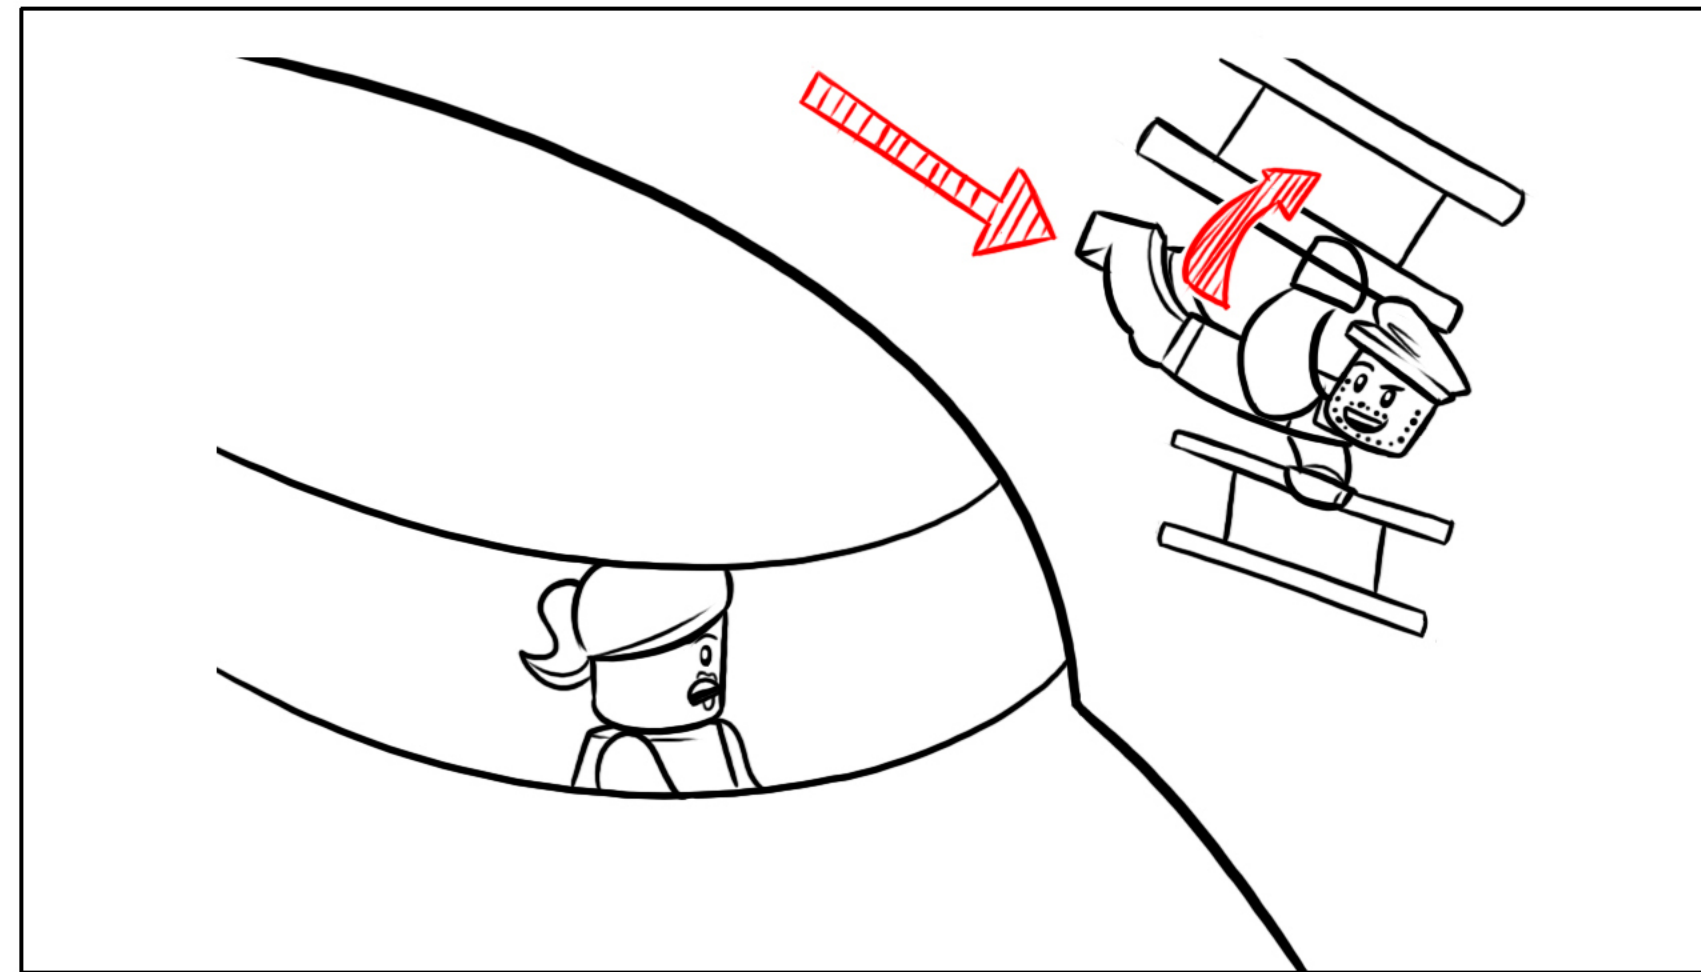

01

Mick, flying like a pro now, sees that the road is covered with snow and gets another idea.

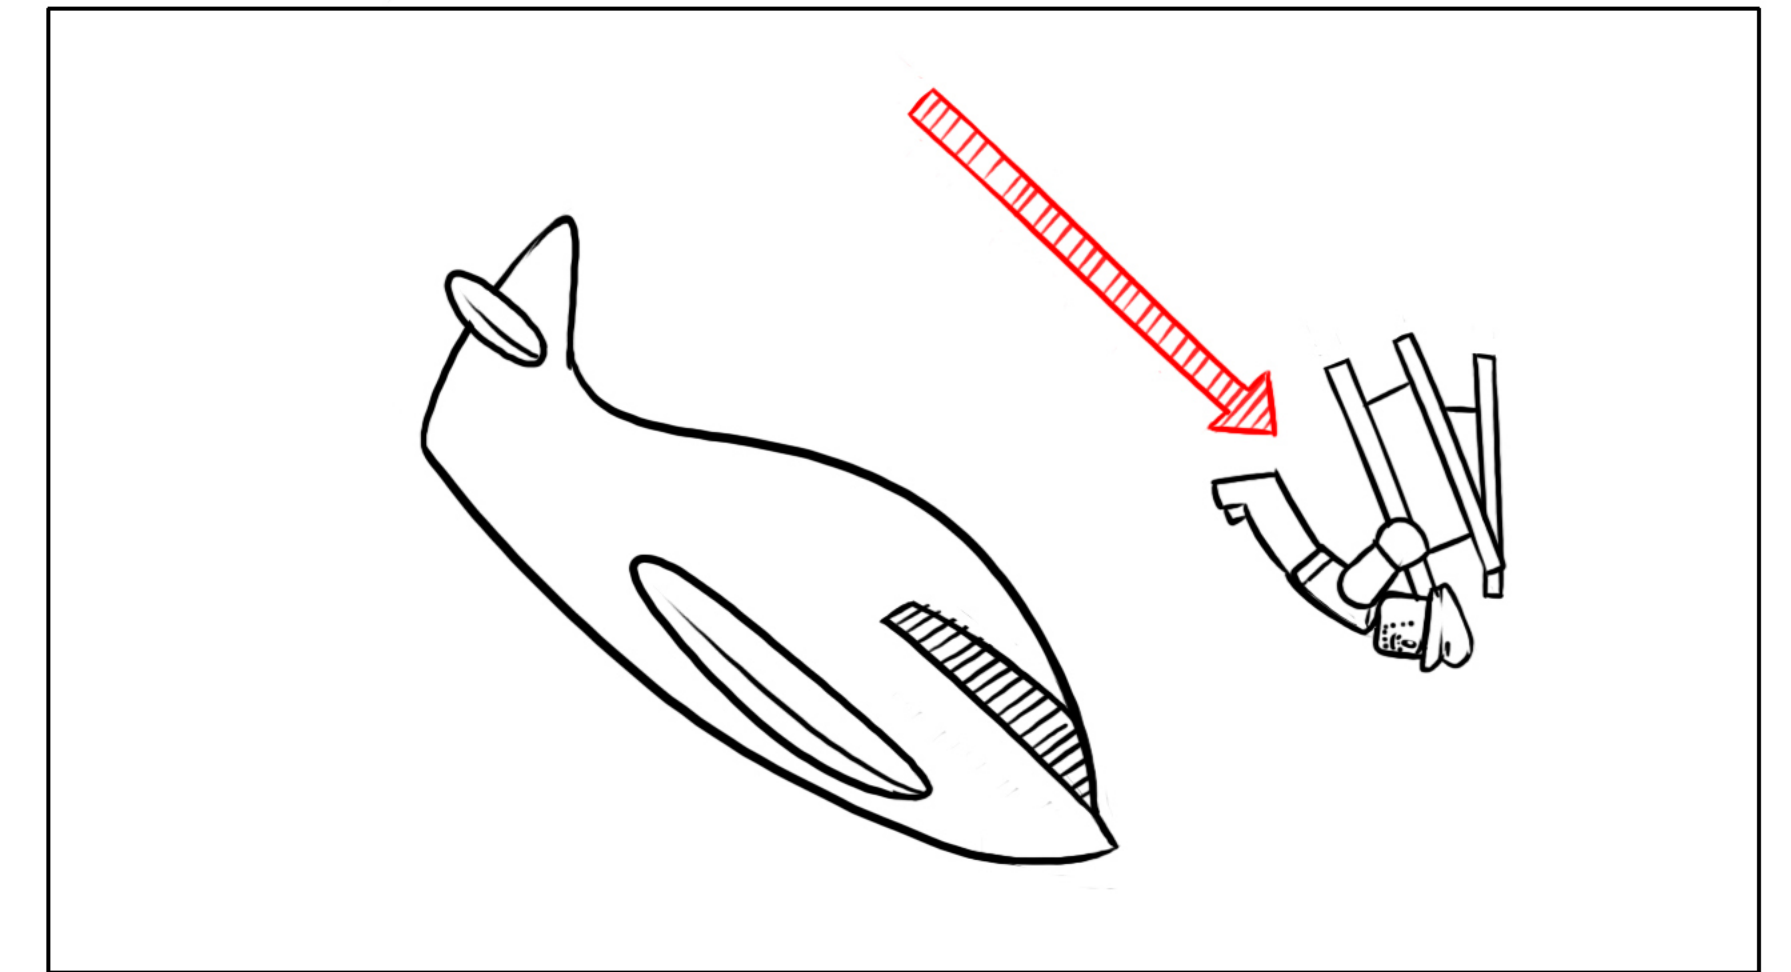

(GETTING AN EVEN BETTER IDEA NOISE)

02

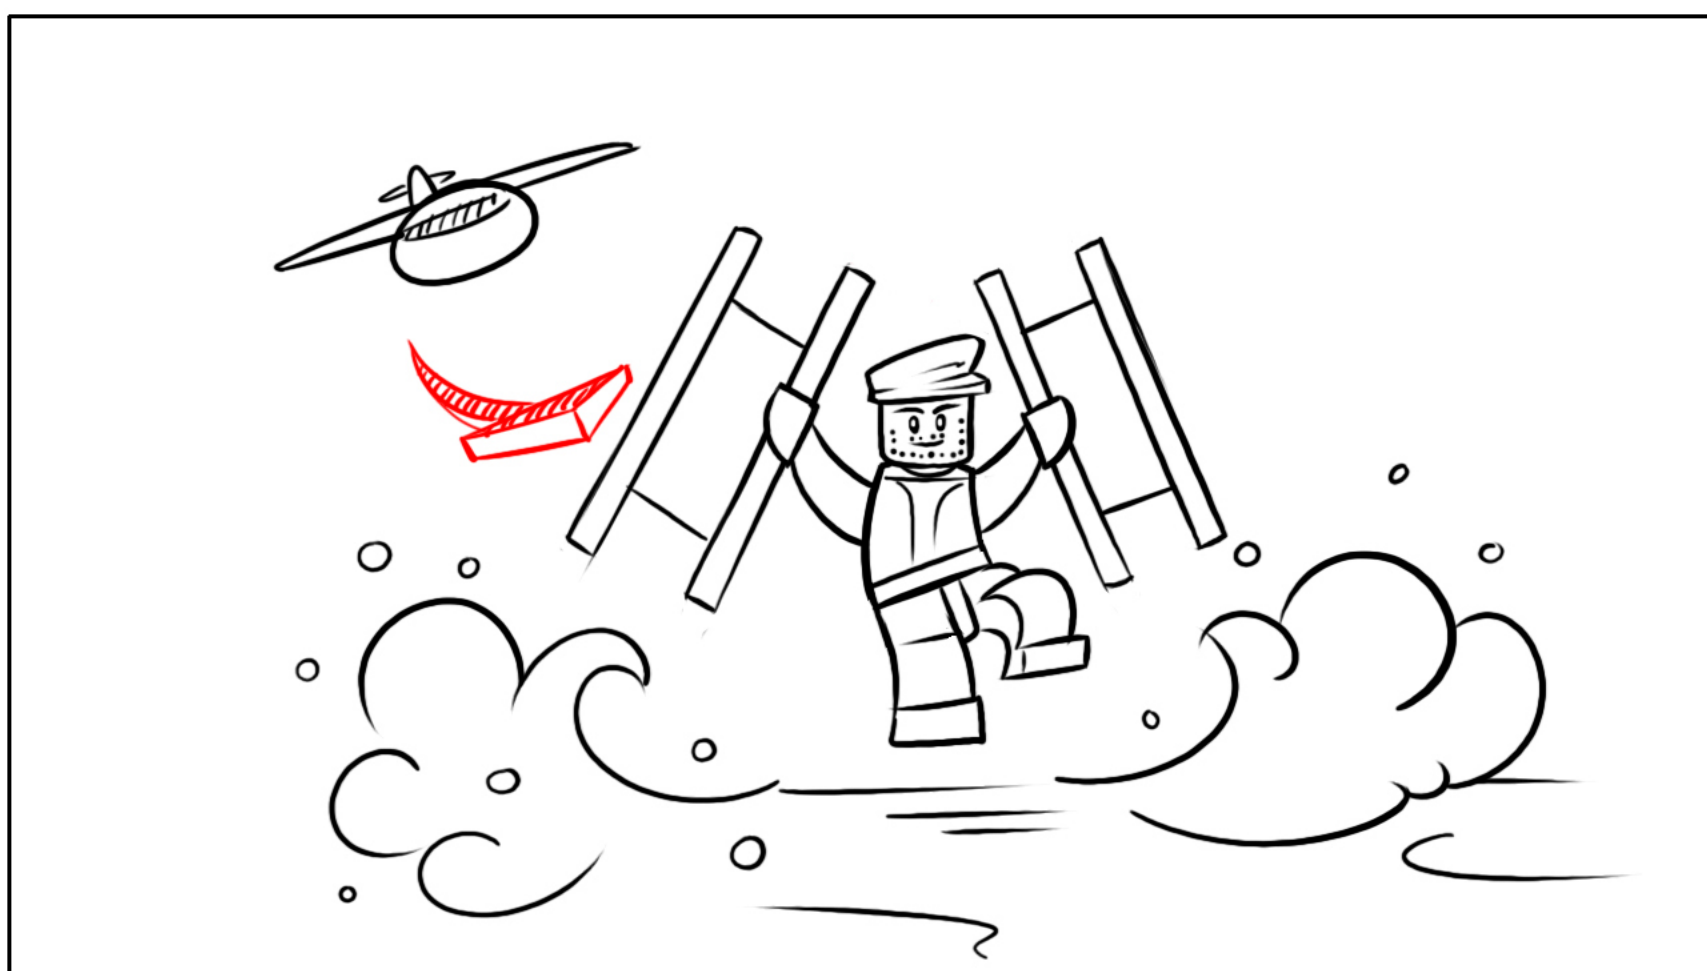

He gestures to the pilot to “follow me”.

03

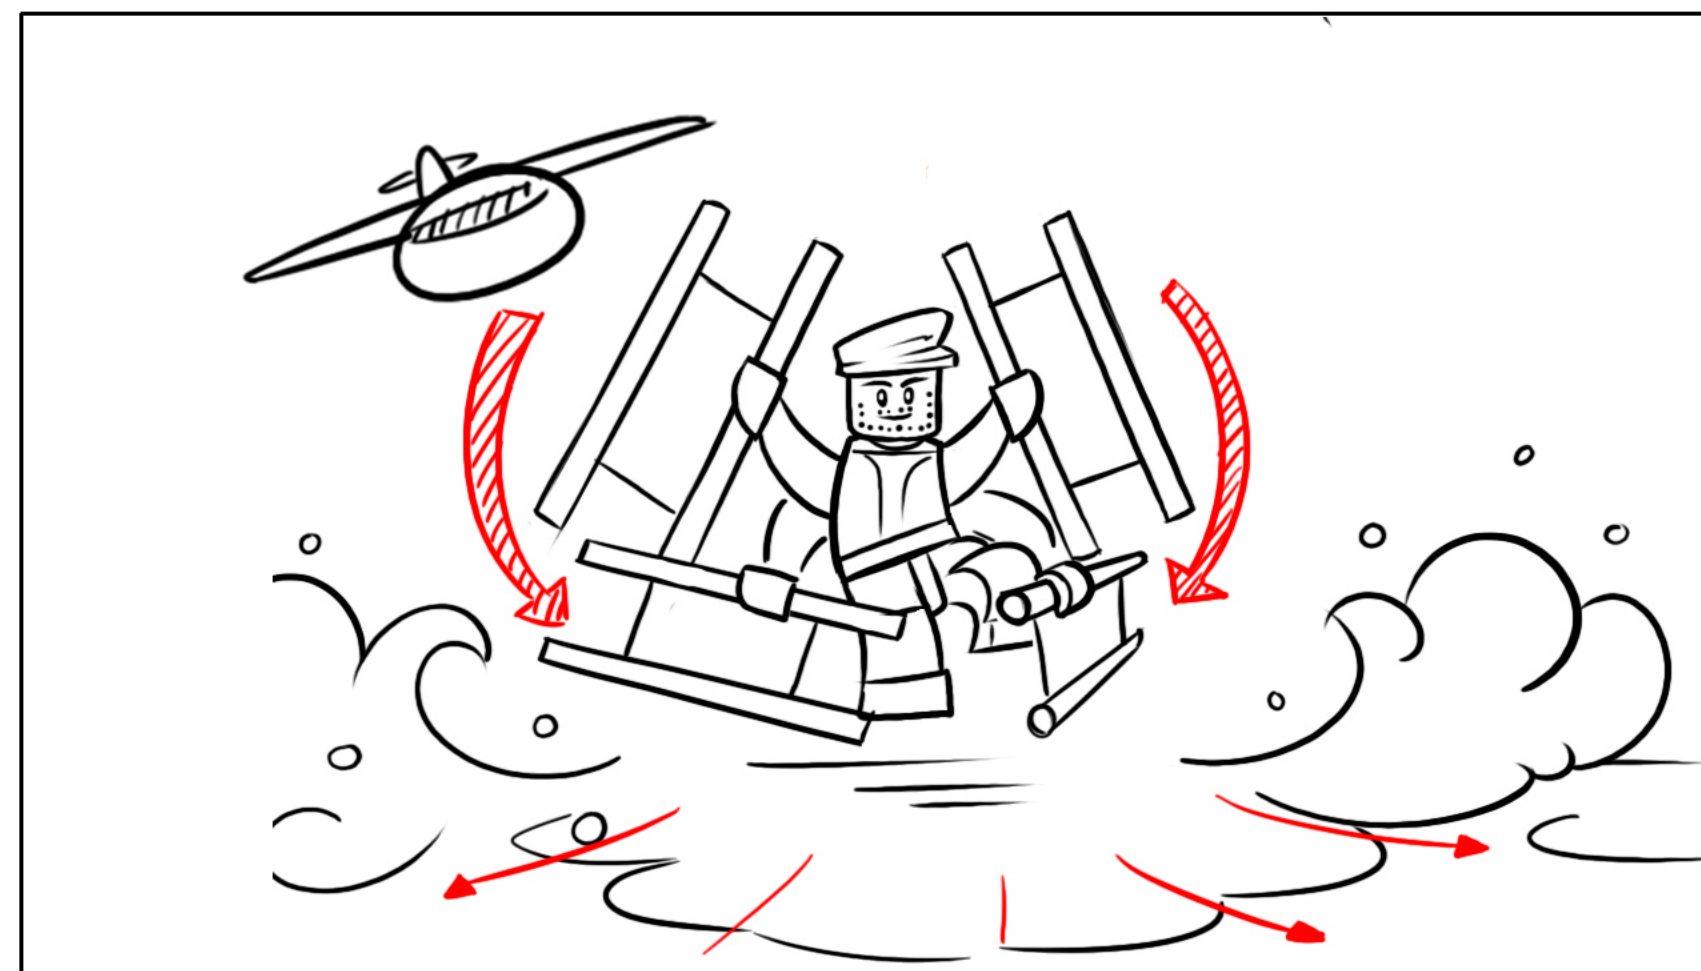

Mick then angles himself downward and flies down

04

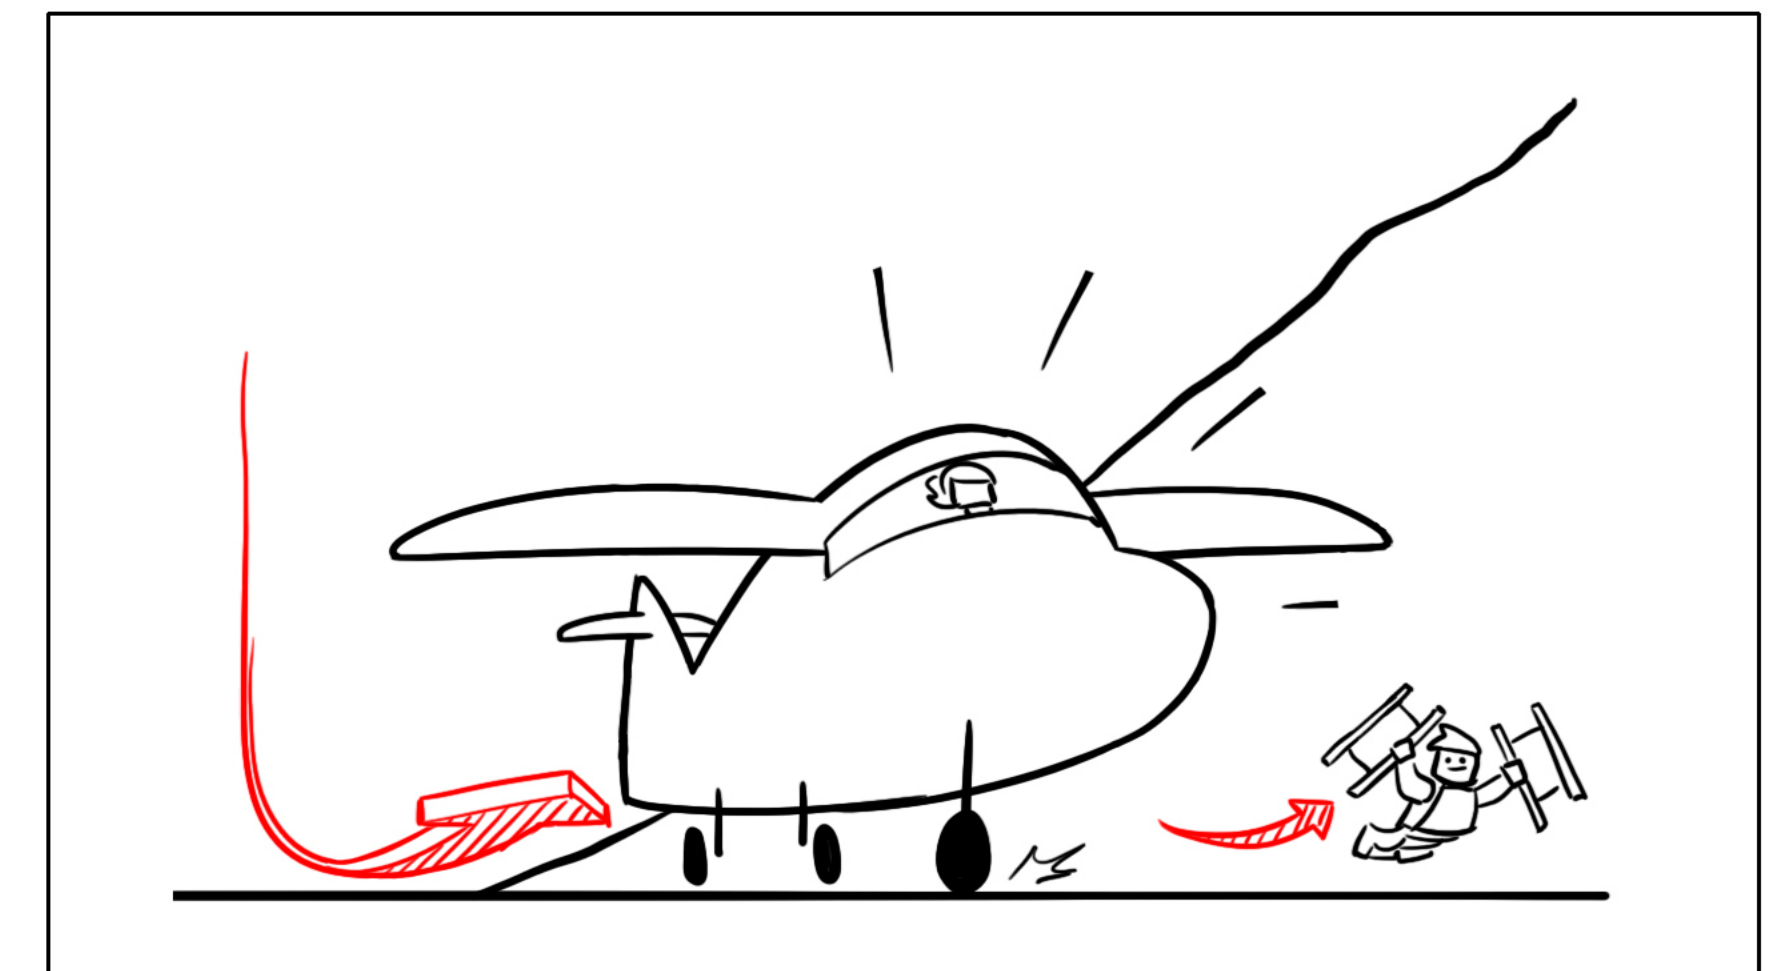

and lands on the road, using his outstretched “wings” to stop himself

05

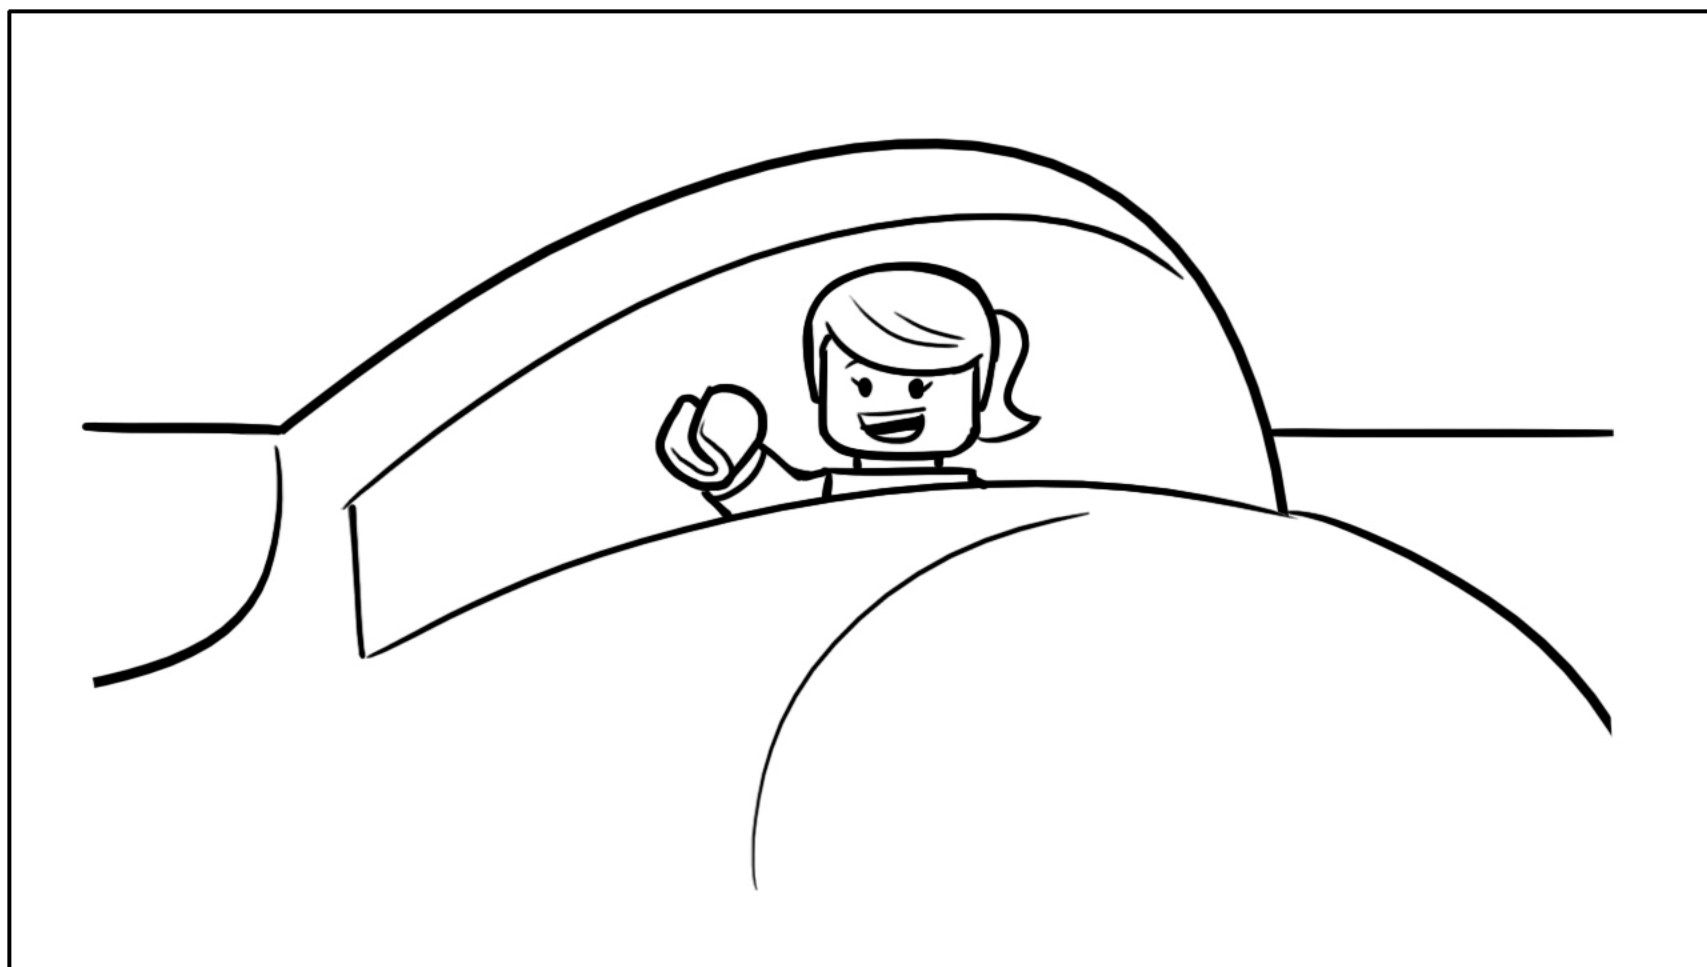

and sweep away the drifting snow.

06

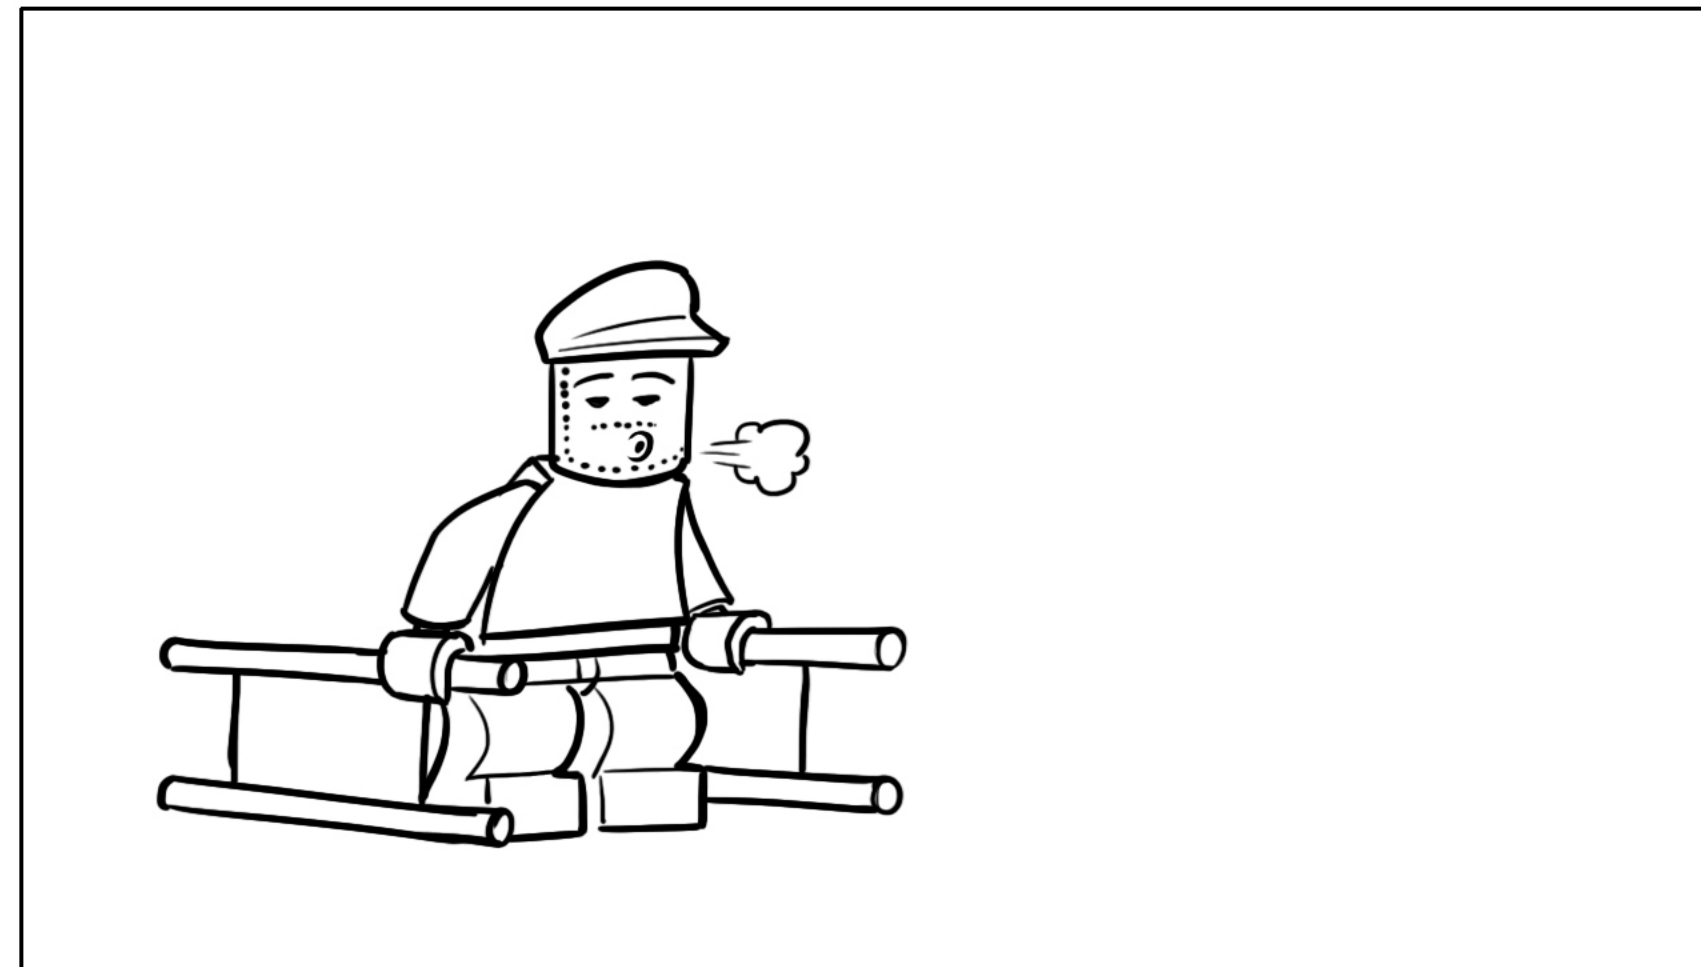

The Ambulance Plane makes a perfect landing on the now-cleared road.

01

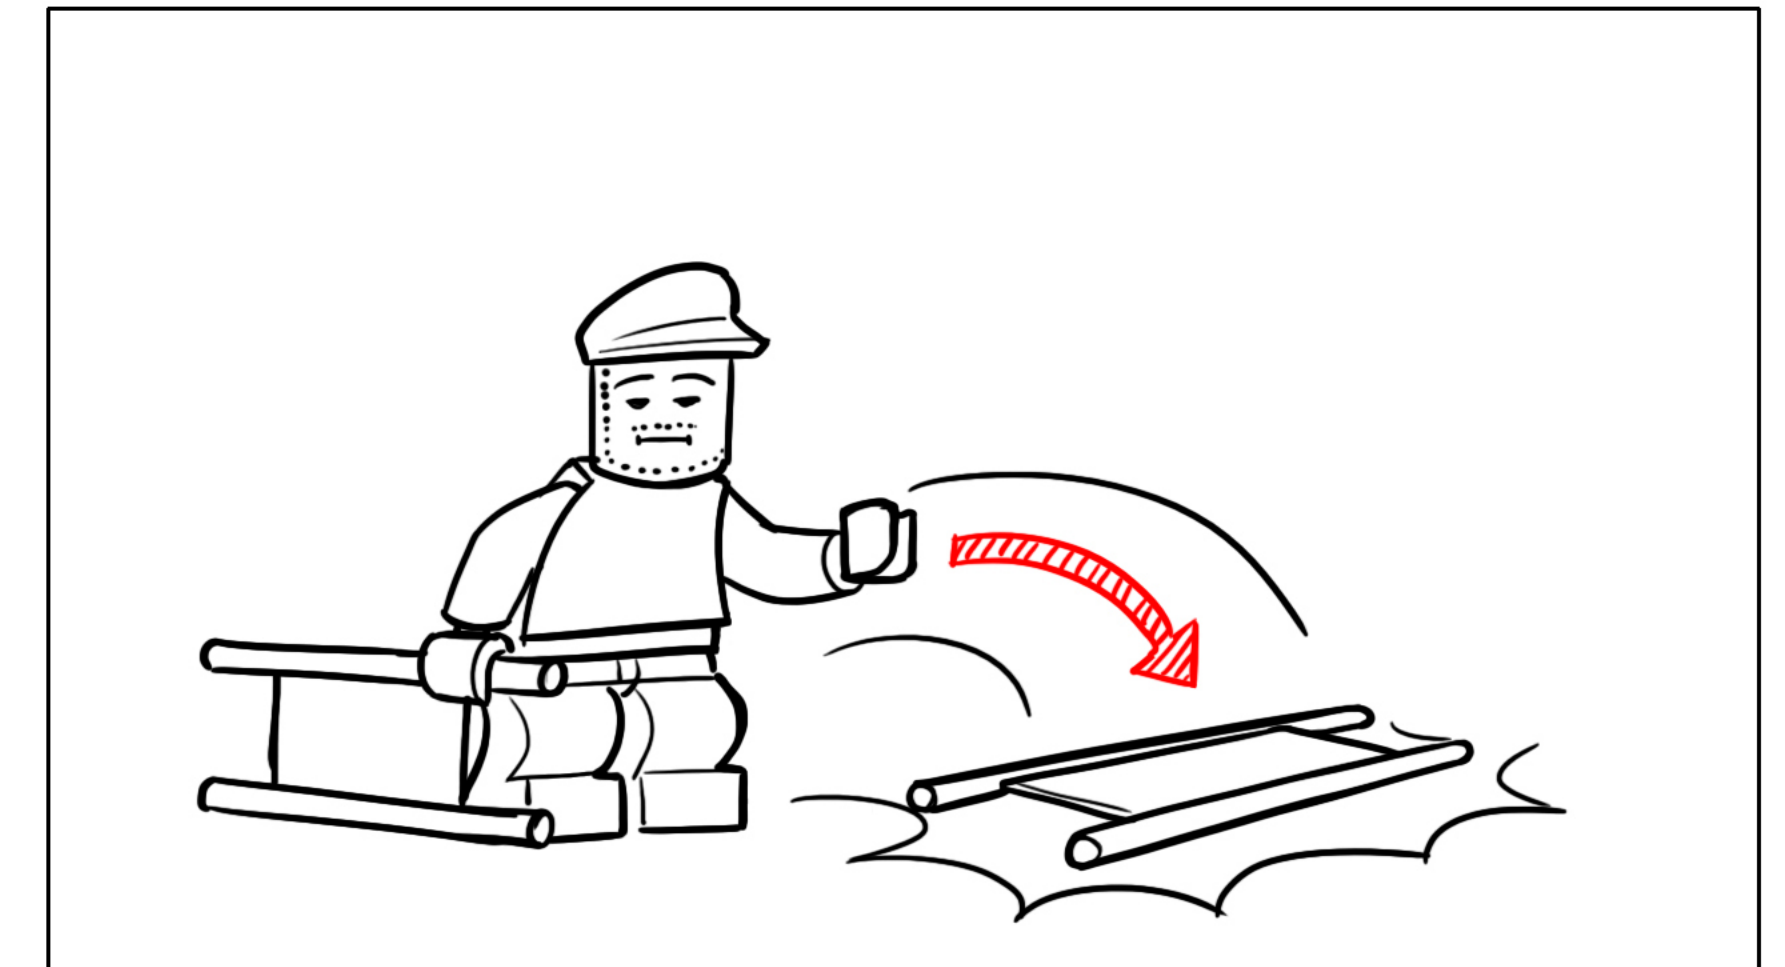

“A perfect landing! And the injured cyclist is going to be okay! Mick, you saved the day! Mick? Mick?”

02

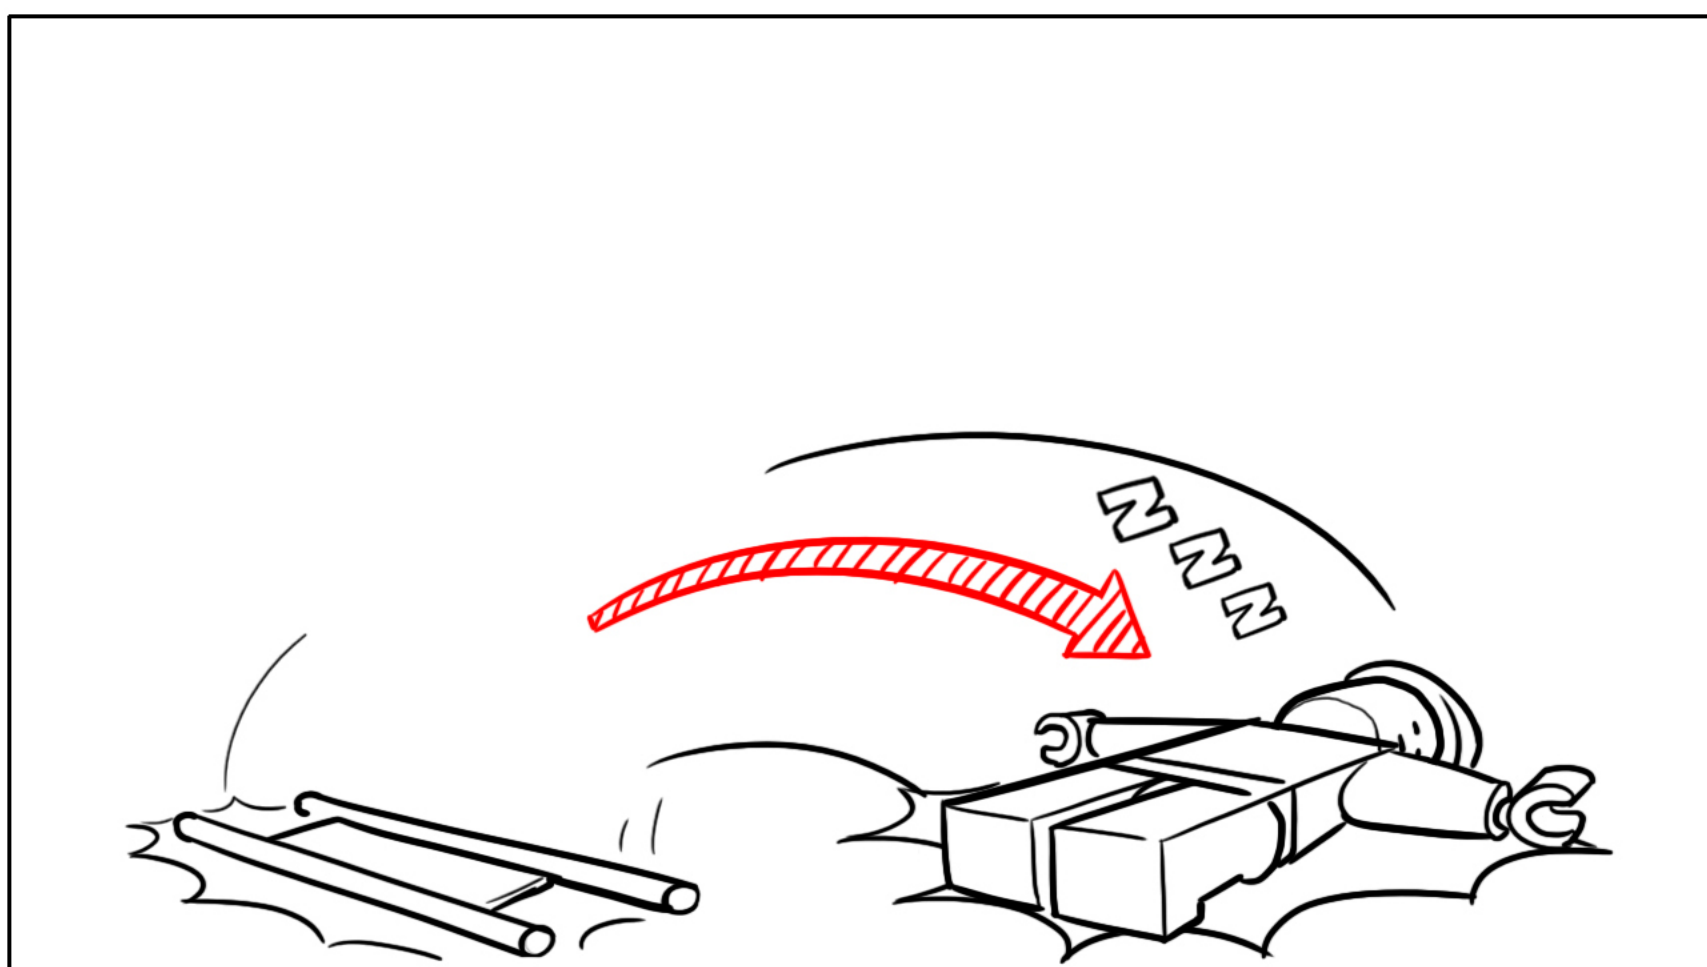

03

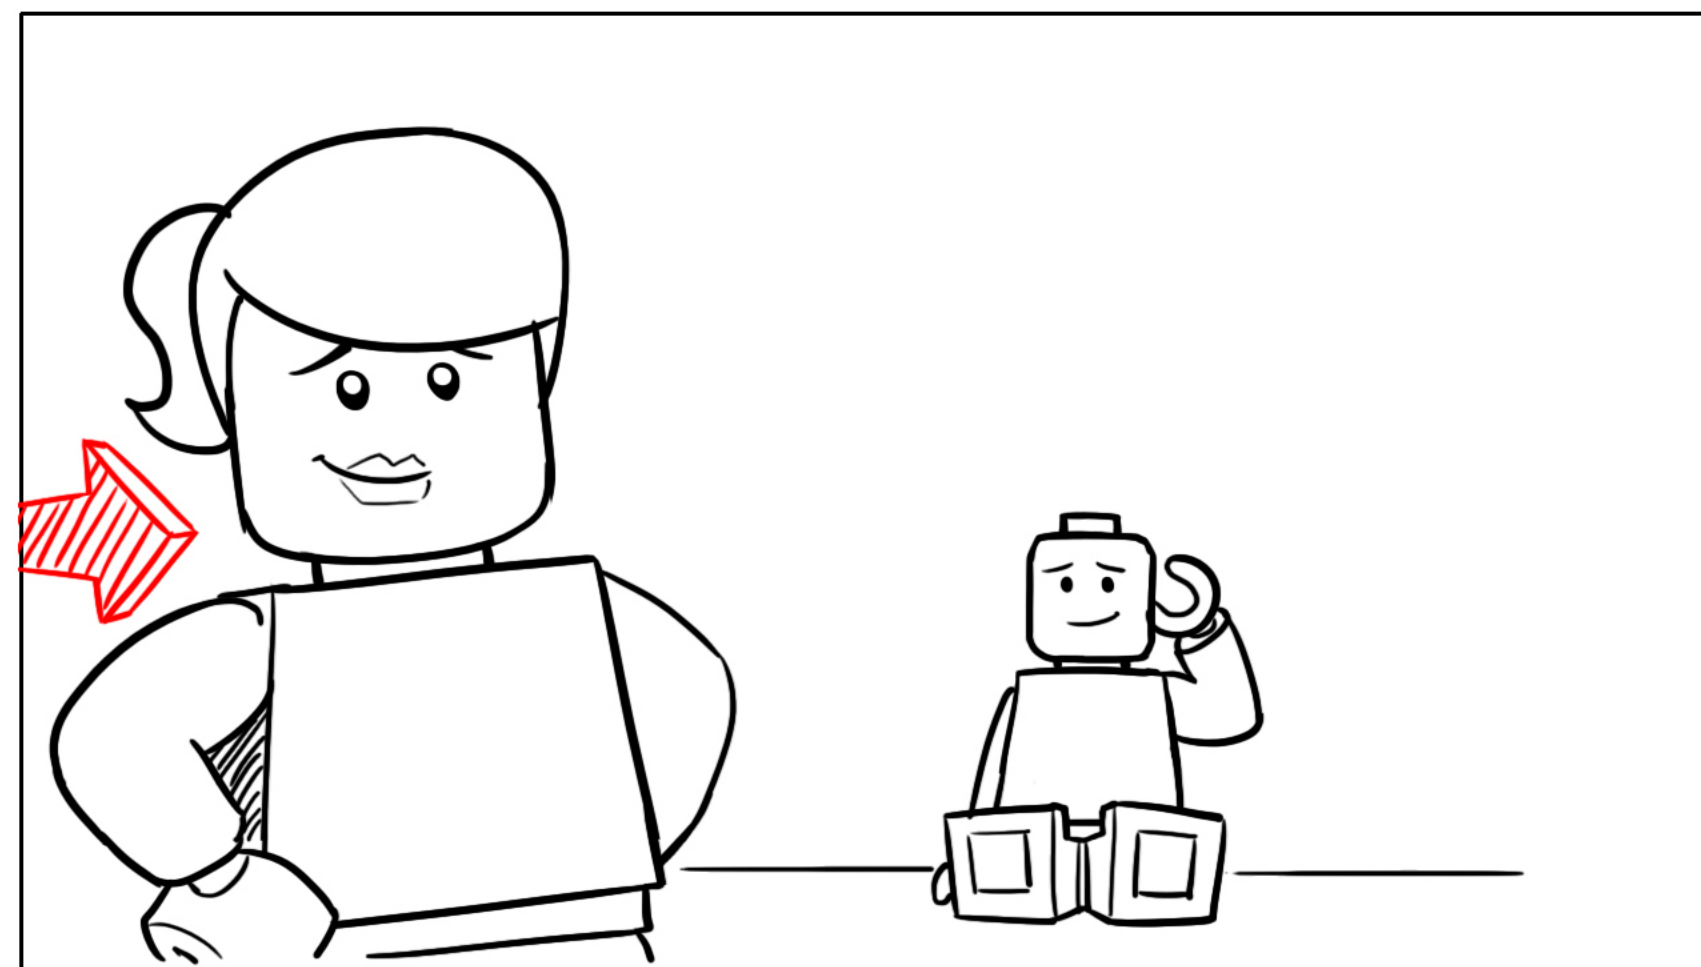

He drops one of the “wing” stretchers onto the ground

04

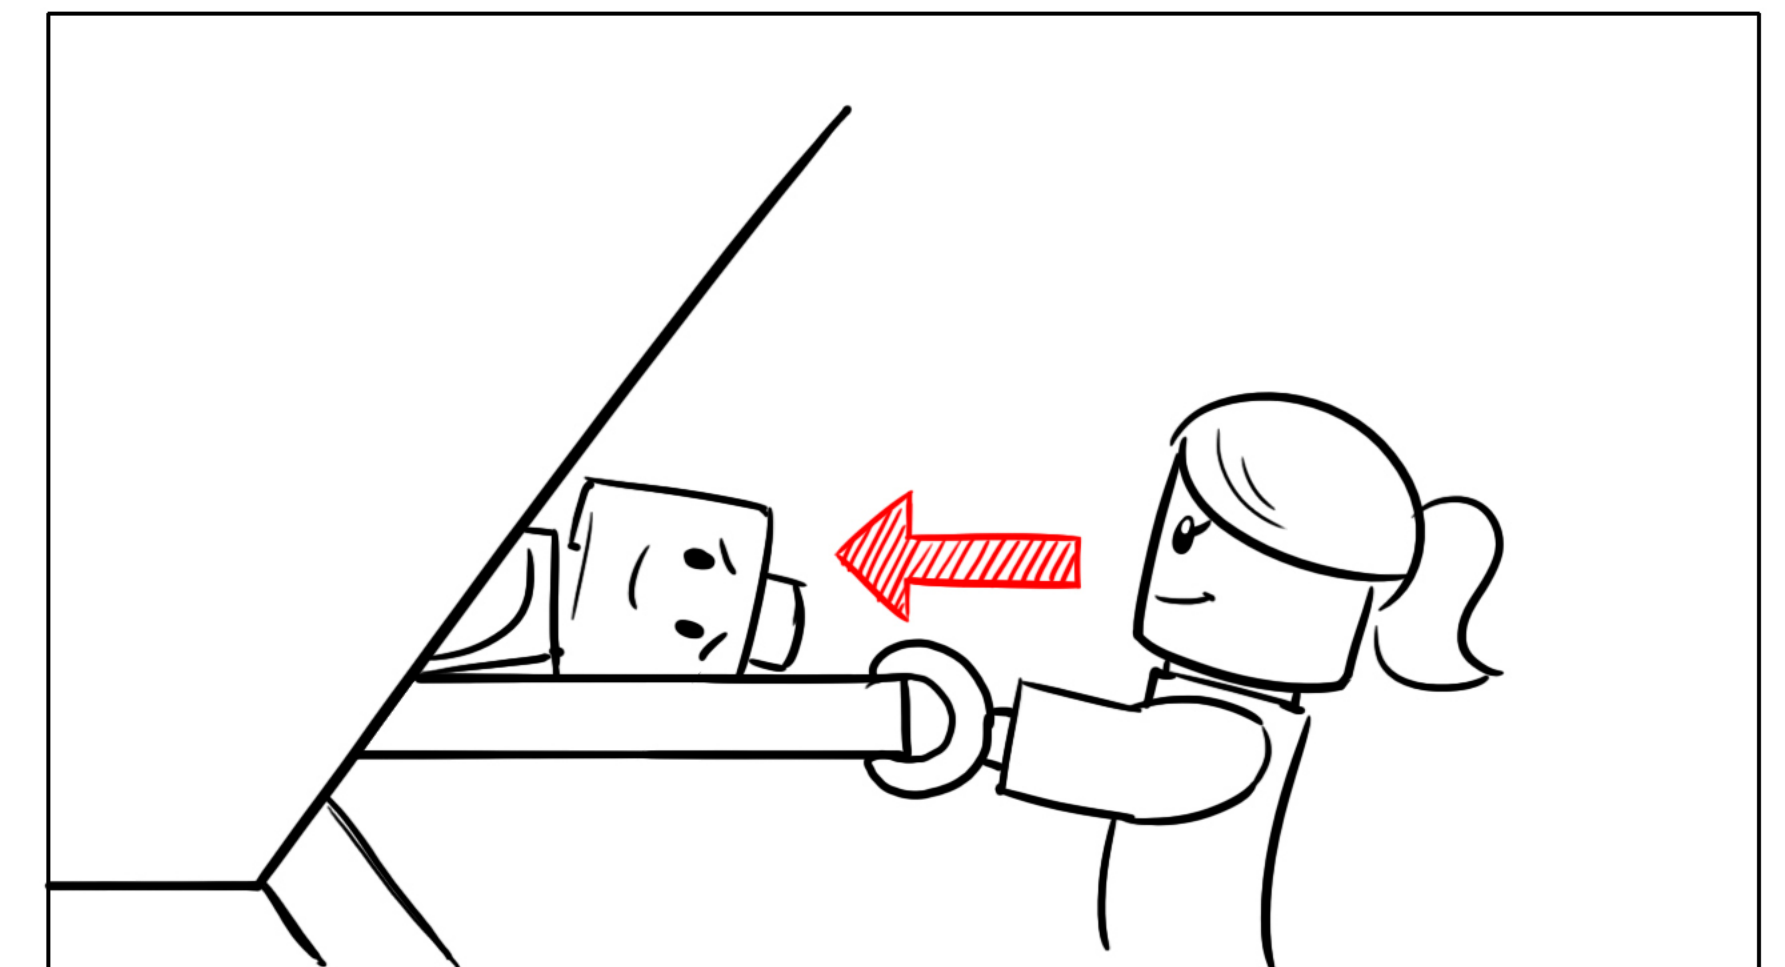

and then promptly falls on it and goes to sleep.

05

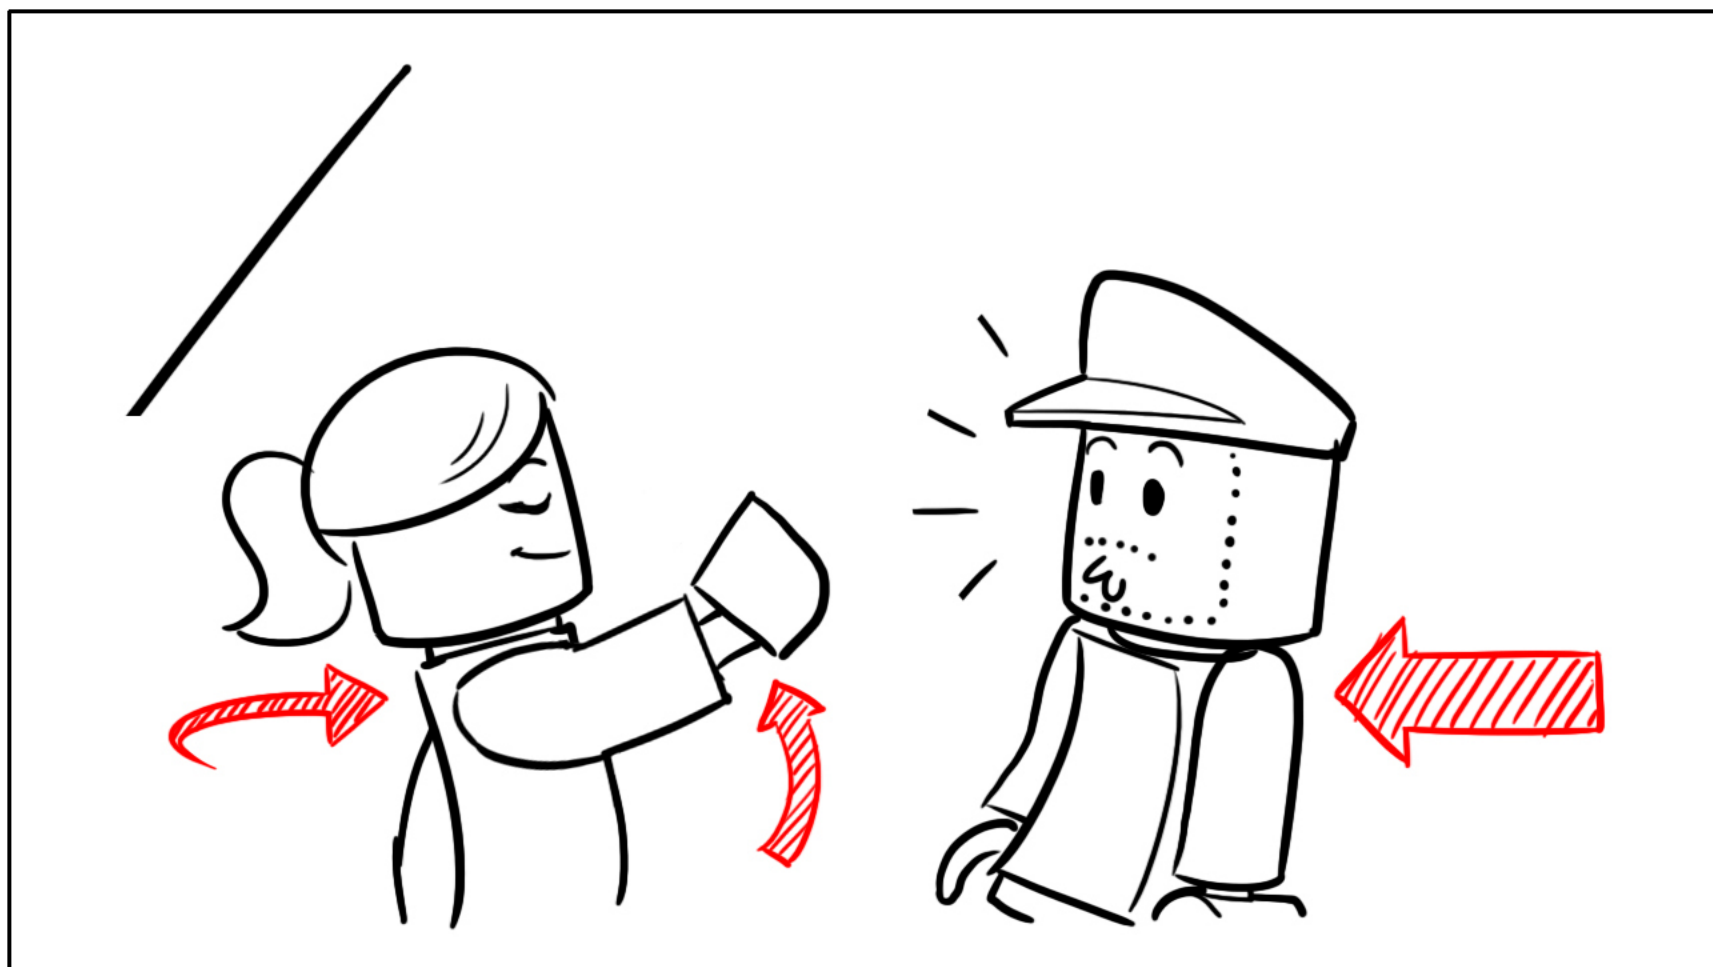

The Pilot and Cyclist share a smile.

06

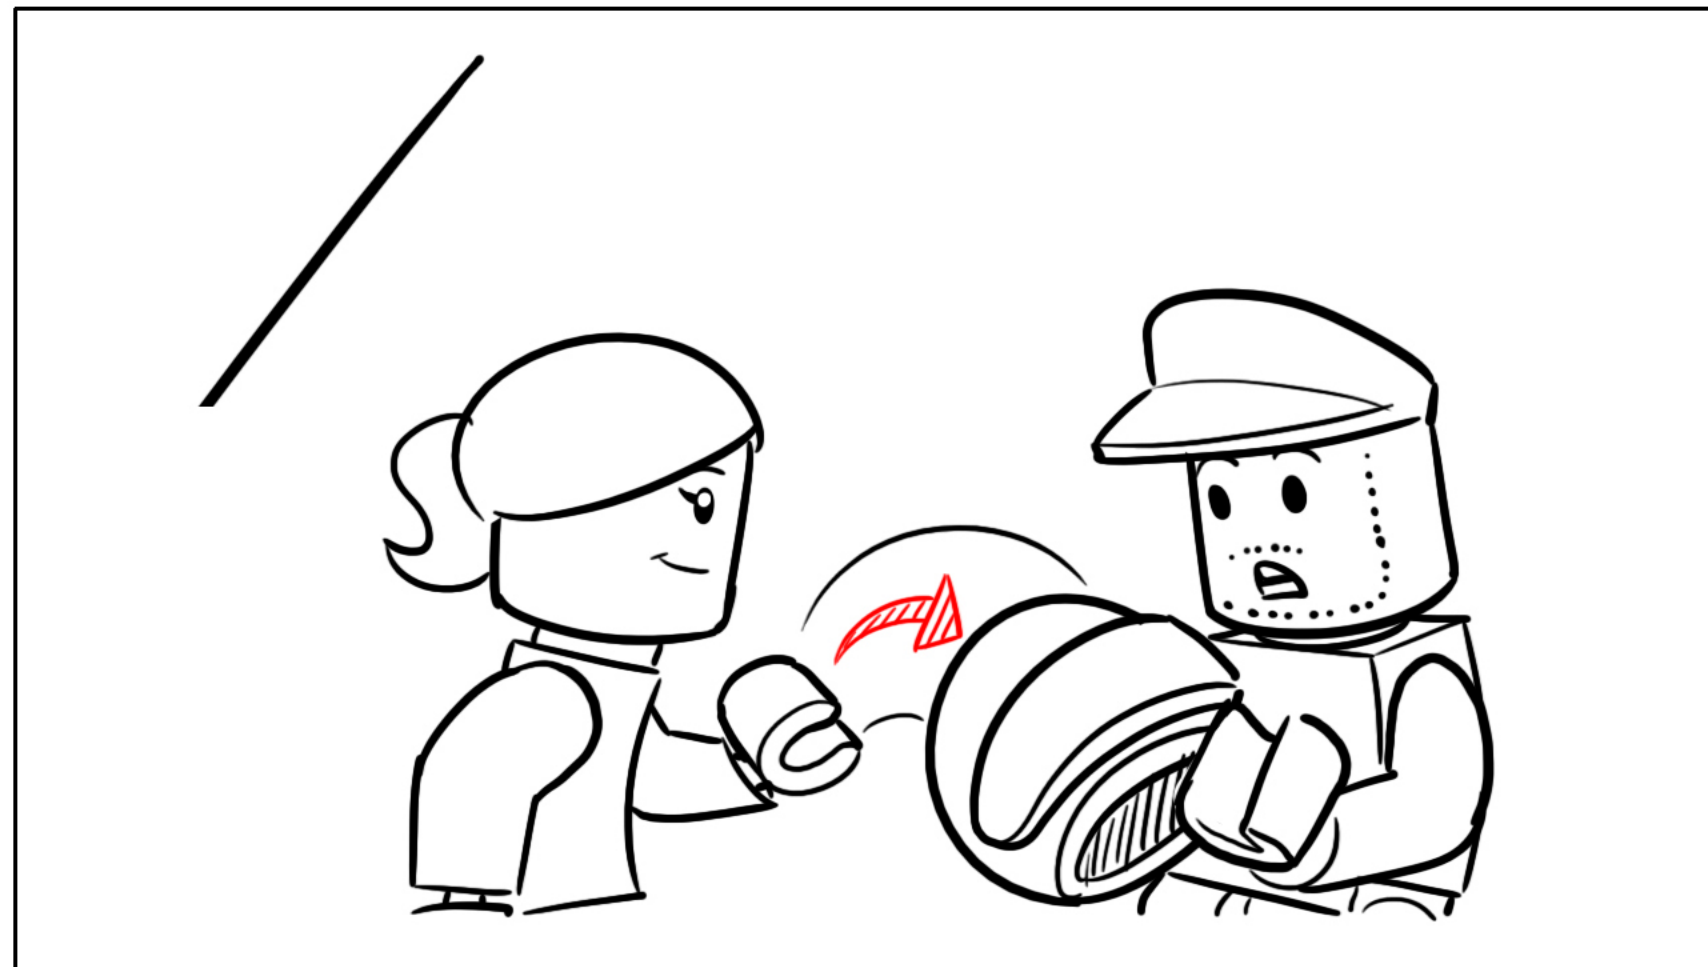

The Pilot loads the Cyclist (on the stretcher) onto the plane,

01

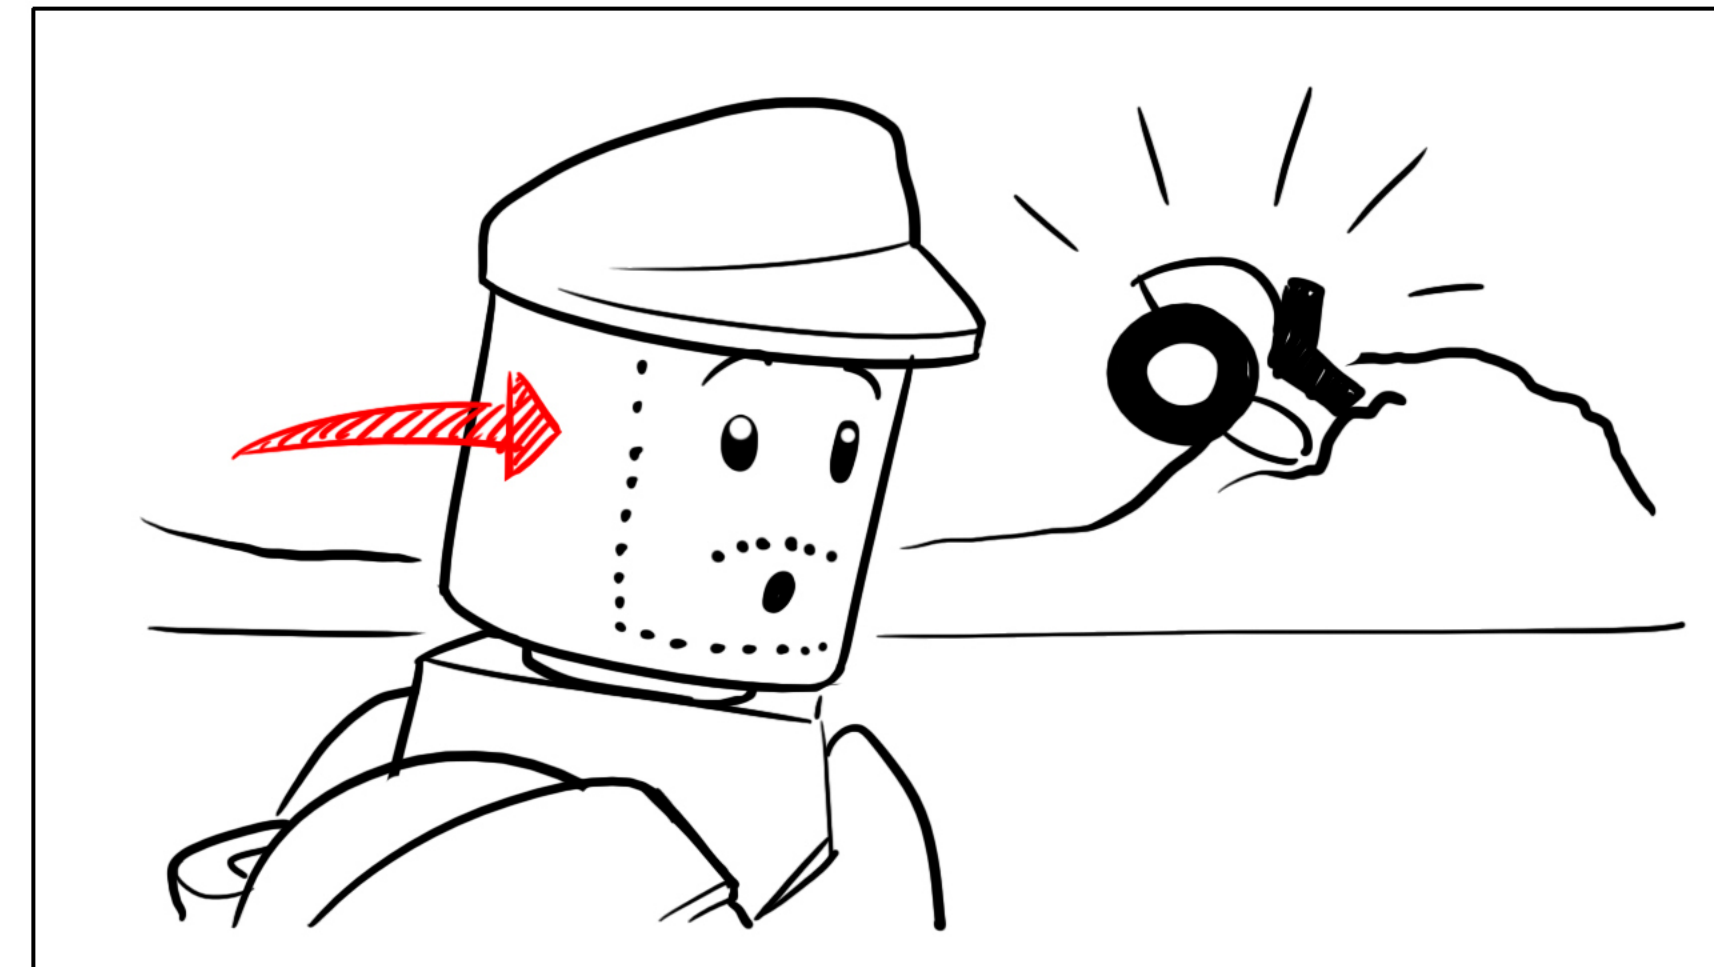

Mick tries to board the plane, but the pilot stops him.

02

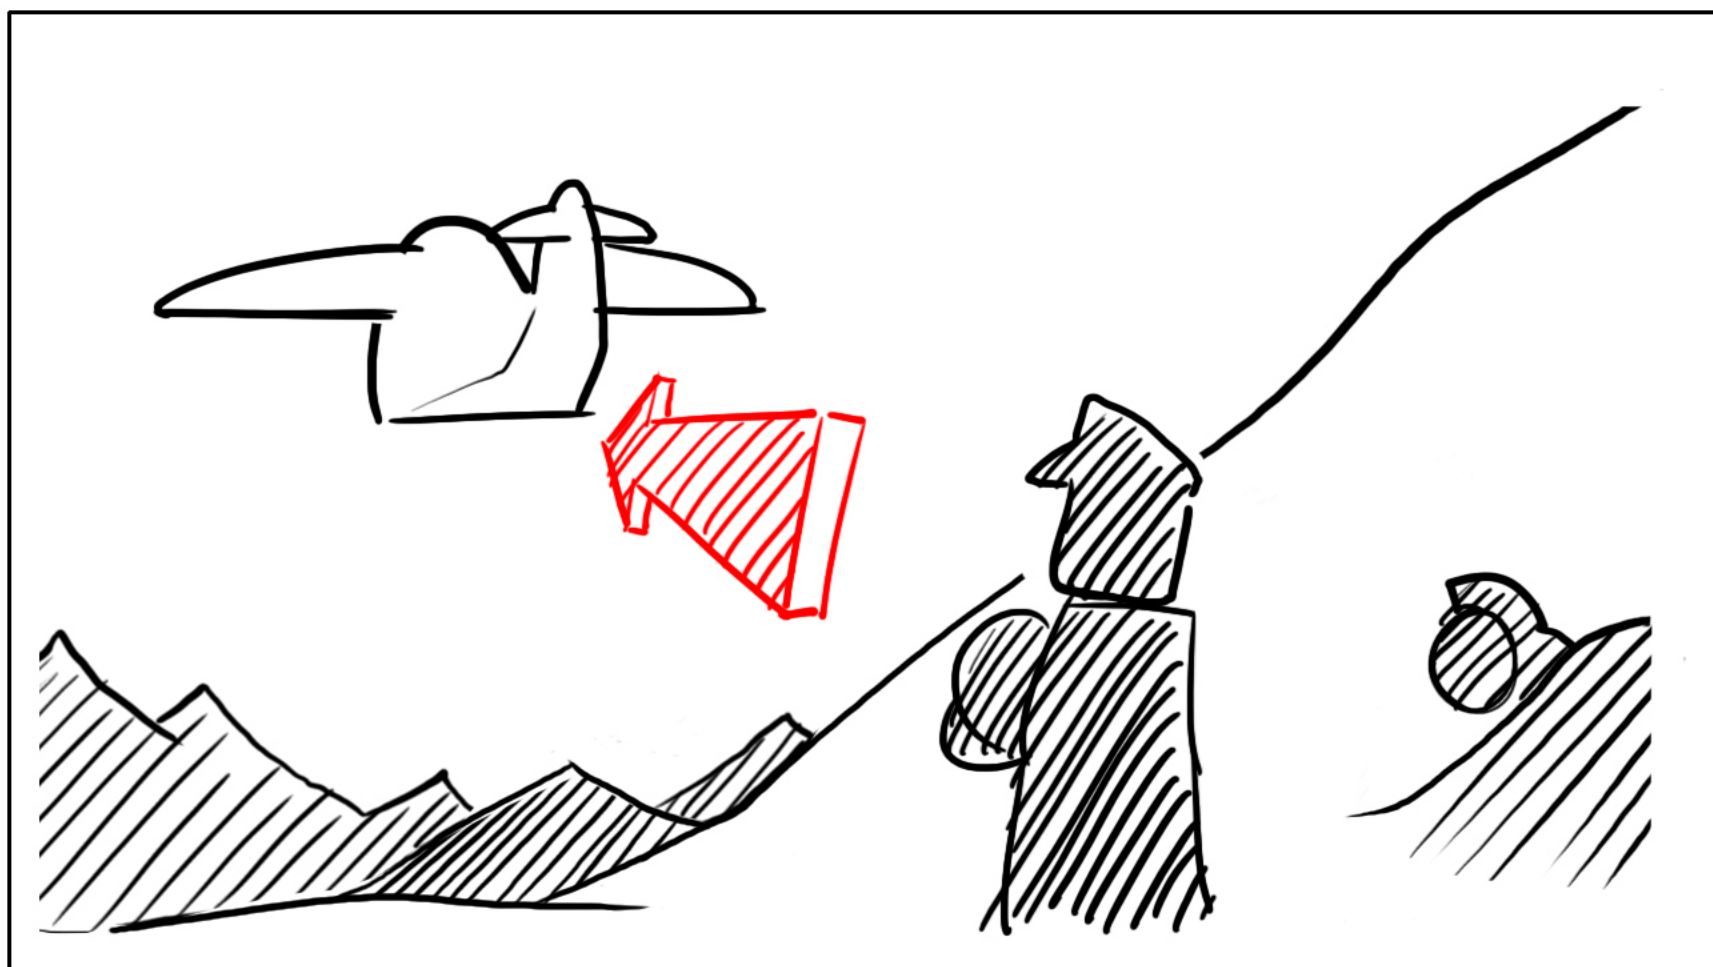

She tosses him the cyclist's motorcycle helmet.

03

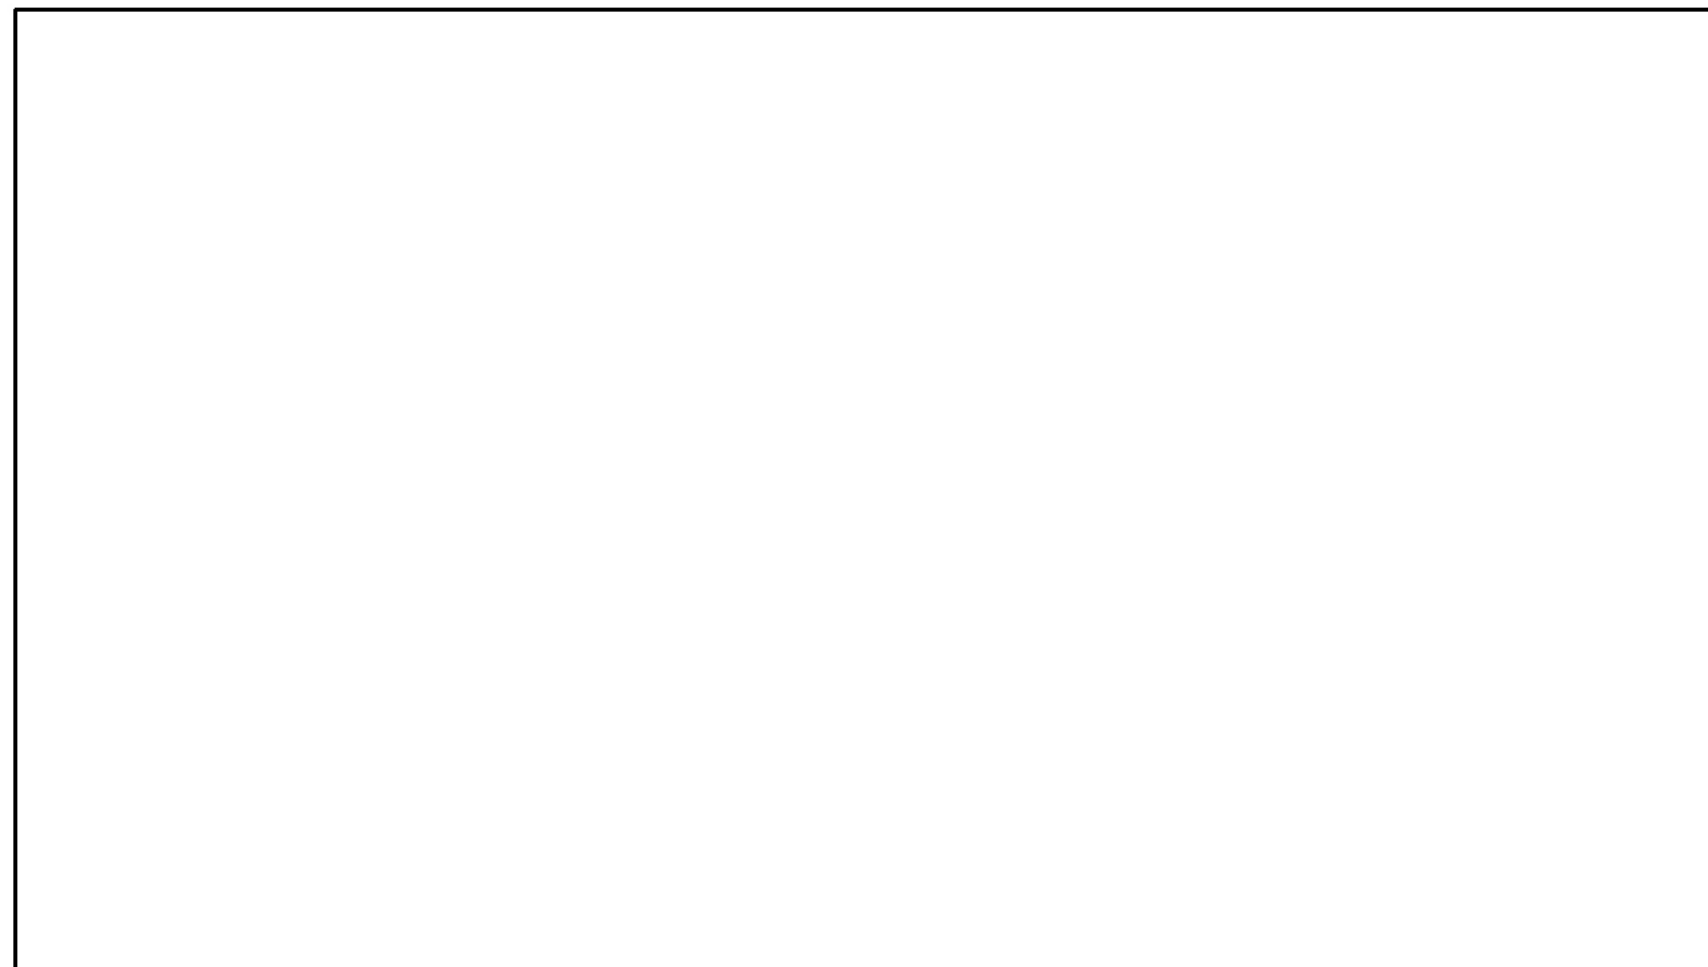

Mick looks back at the motorcycle still stuck in the snow.

04

When he turns back, the plane has taken off without him.
